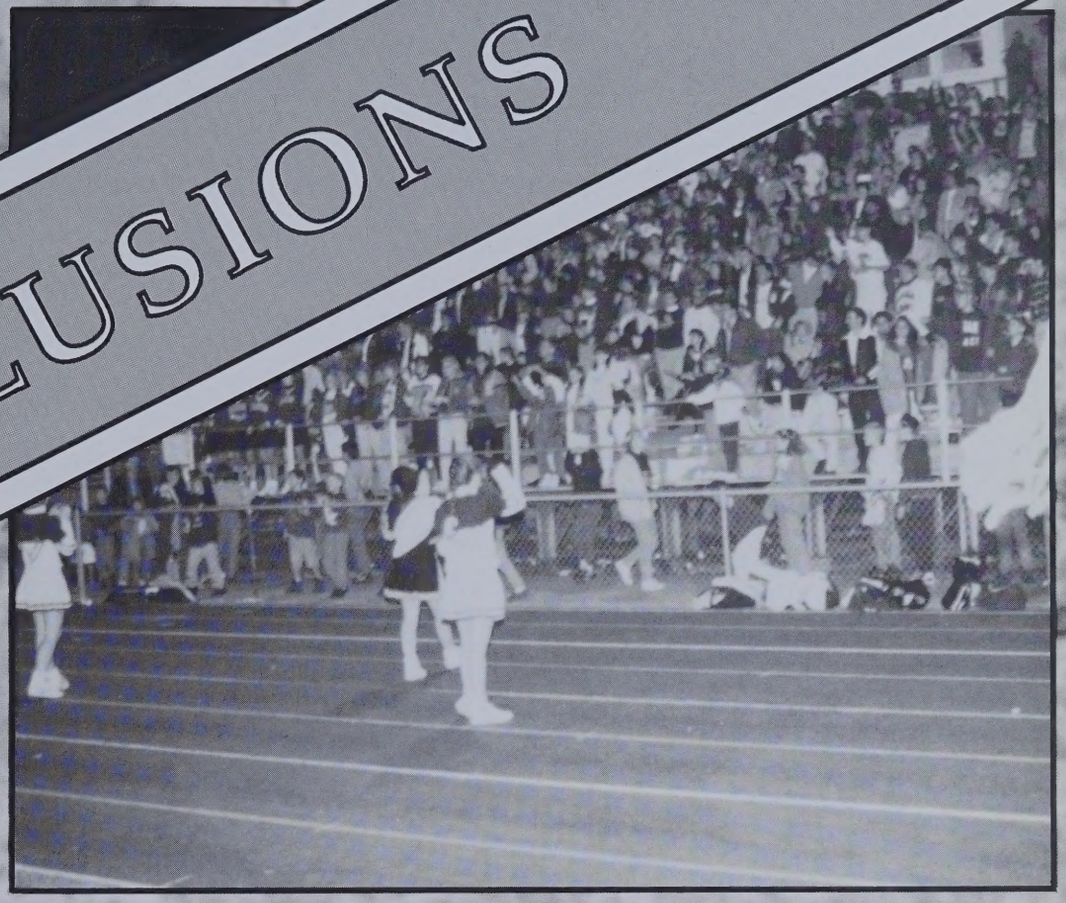
? CONCLUSIONS



Here's a Baron crowd at Young Field. Did the team win? Draw Your Own Conclusions!

What was 1993-94 at DHS really like? What events, classes, and activities made the biggest impression on each of us? Who are the Barons that we will most likely remember years from now?

All of these and many more are questions that might go through our minds when thinking about DeKalb High School's twenty-seventh year. As you read through this edition of the Saber and have various questions in your mind, we encourage you to....

Andrea Mettert and Jaime Mitchell join National Honor Society. Are they happy? Draw Your Own Conclusions!

Will they win? These Barons are trying their luck and skill with the ducks at the DeKalb County Fair.

Is it a sale? Mike Bell stands in the parking lot hoping that someone will see his sign and buy his car.

Why Do We Enjoy ACD Days, Fair?

ACD and Fair happened early in the school year. During ACD Days the sports organizations, the band, and the choir worked at the Kruse International auction grounds to raise money to help their groups.

The band also marched in the Saturday parade, which is just one of the Auburn-Cord-Duesenberg Club's many activities over the Labor Day Weekend.

The end of September brought the DeKalb County Fair. The only thing that wasn't very pleasant was the weather, which was really cold and gloomy. But not even the horrible weather could keep us away. People spent their hard-earned money on games to win items that the midway workers had in store for them.

The midway wasn't the only thing going on. The horse barns were also filled with activity. The stage by the Court House hosted the show choir and the Miss DeKalb contest.

The horsebarns, the midway, and the parades are all important parts of the fair.

Mr. McKean drives the workers for the Athletic Department to their work stations at the auction grounds during ACD Days.

Holly Heffley takes part in the Super Showmanship contest, which was the last event to take place at the 4-H grounds.

Students aren't the only ones who enjoy the fair. As proof, here is Mr. Blackburn trying his luck at the shooting game.

Jenny Crager, Miss Auburn, waves at the crowd as she passes by in the ACD parade.

Turning the corner, all in step, the marching band shows off their new uniforms in the ACD parade.

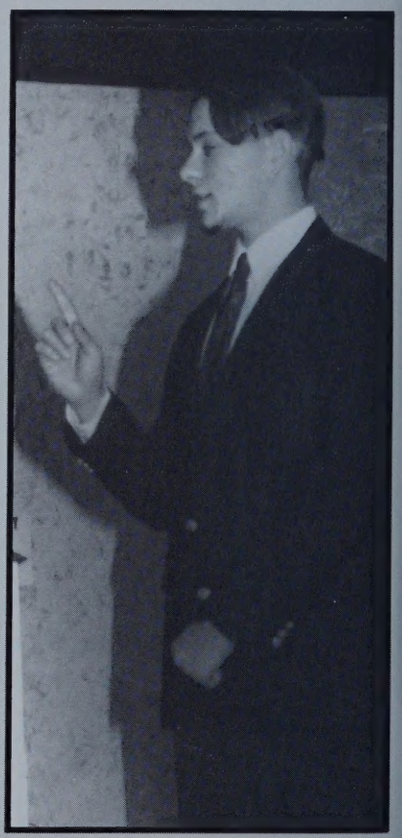
Dr. Emerson and Dr. Scott, with the assistance of the head nurse, check Ken's condition.

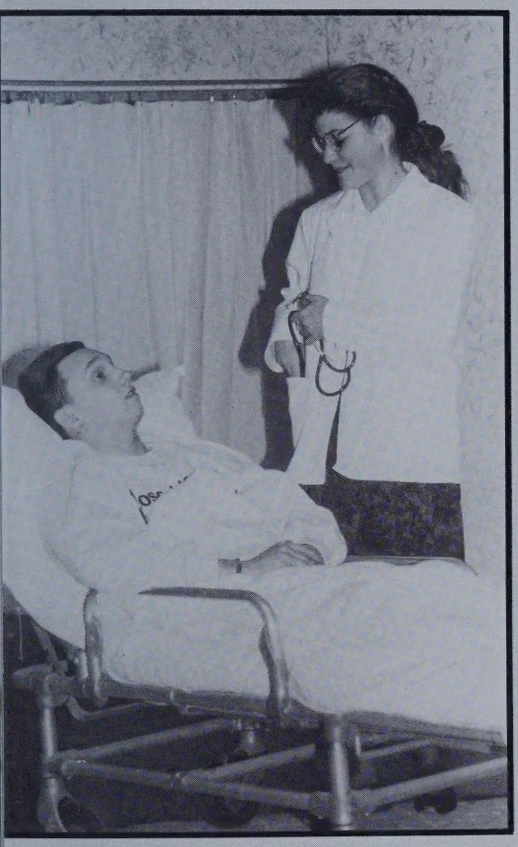
Nurse Laura Bard is seeing that Mr. Harrison, Todd Higgins, is getting what he needs.

Dr. Emerson talks to Dr.Travers about the condition of Mr. Harrison and what is still to come.



The Judge, Paul Kulhorst, is seen here making his point that not all hope is gone.

Dr. Scott, Jenny Crager, looks at Mr. Harrison with a little more emotion than a regular doctor should.



Fall Play Asks: Whose Life Is It Anyway?

Whose Life Is It Anyway? was the question asked at the fall play . It was about Ken Herrison, played by Todd Higgins , a man who is paralyzed from the neck down and doesn't want life to go on because he can't do what he loves most, which is sculpting. Being bedridden, he has no will to live and no means to take his own life. So he calls on Dr. Emerson, played by Sean O'Dell, to help him "pull the plug."

During his stay at the hospital he meets Dr. Scott, who tries to show him there is more to life than just sculpting. During the course of Ken's stay, Dr. Scott begins to have feelings for Ken and tries to convince him that not all hope is gone, although he may not be able to carry on with normal life, he can carry on with life itself.

As the play comes to an end, the audience sees a spotlight on Ken laying all by himself in his hospital bed. This view seems to last forever and as the spot light slowly fades the crowd is left wondering if Ken will go on living in his parapalegic state or if he will have someone" pull the plug."

Laura Bard and Ryan Meyers spice up the play a little by saying a couple of funny lines here and there.

Dr. Scott and Dr. Emerson discuss some important matters that have to deal with Mr. Harrison's condition.

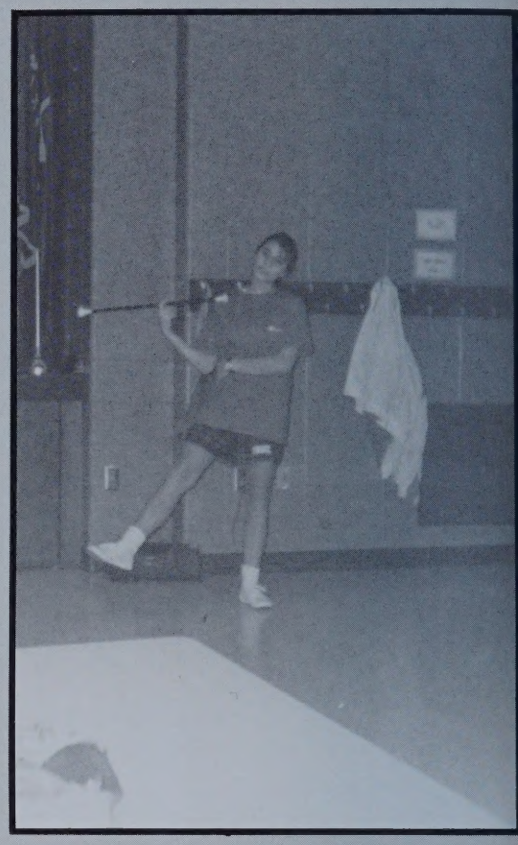
What Is Your Favorite Job Or Hobby?

Jobs and hobbies...hobbies and jobs. Some jobs are pleasant and some are not. Either way you think about it, any job is good because without it you could not buy all of the fun things in life. No money, no fun!

Some of the jobs that we have are not too pleasant, but we have to do them because they are a source of income. Some people think that jobs are not important until they get older and learn the value of money. Money is hard to come by these days, and good jobs are usually hard to find.

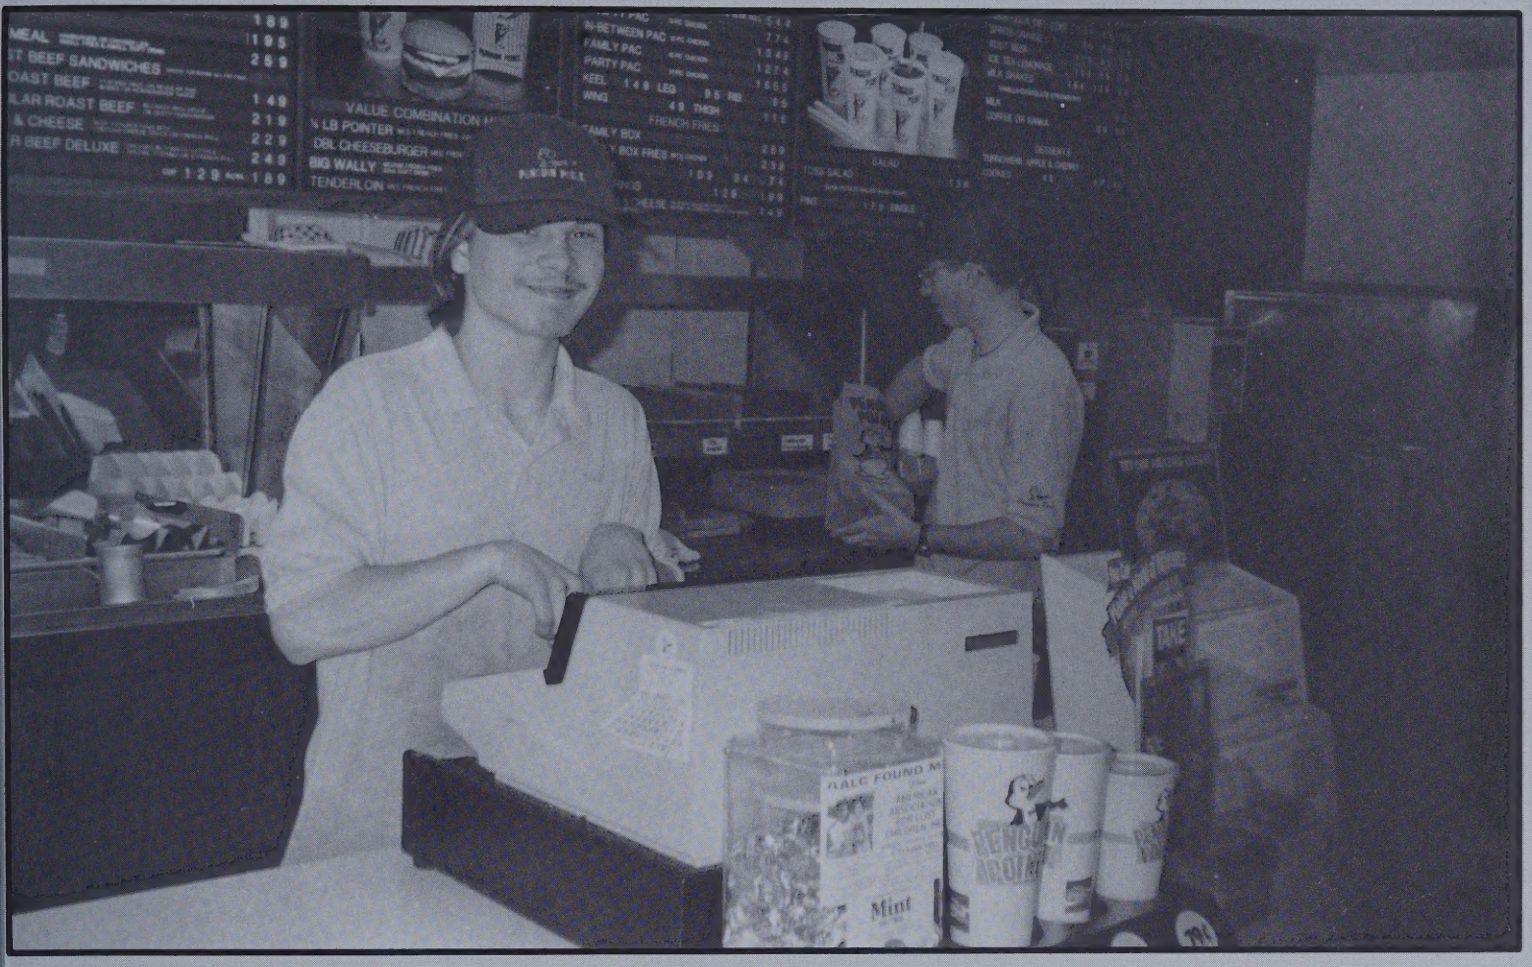
In order to have a hobby of some sort, it is usually necessary to have a job and or some source of income. Some hobbies cost more than others. Some may not cost anything at all. Rock collecting and even the dreaded leaf collection don't cost anything whereas something like buying old beat-up cars and rebuilding them can run a person thousands of dollars. In the end, it is up to you on what to do!

Heather Creager practices her twirling so that she will be able to compete at Nationals in Orlando, Florida, in June.



Some hobbies involve us in getting physical exercise. Above, Brian Doetsch makes a turn on his skates at the senior cook-out.

On the weekends, Barry Snider likes to get together with some friends and participate in an array of role playing games.



Enjoying themselves at Penguin Point where they work are Iain Higgins and Travis Robuck.

At Hardee's, Justin Reinig prepares hamburgers to be put on the grill for customers.

Dan Hanes and Sara Pomeroy are making sure that the customers are getting what they need at Fazoli's.

If you ever visit Kentucky Fried Chicken, you are likely to see the smiling face of Heather Farr.

Having fun at the Senior Cook-out are Adam Bolen, Annie Recker (Most Athletic Female), Colleen McNabb (Most Talented Female), and Tina Gurtner.

Enjoying herself in the hall is Jenny Pressler (Most School Spirited Female) along with Steve Hancock and Amy Oswalt.

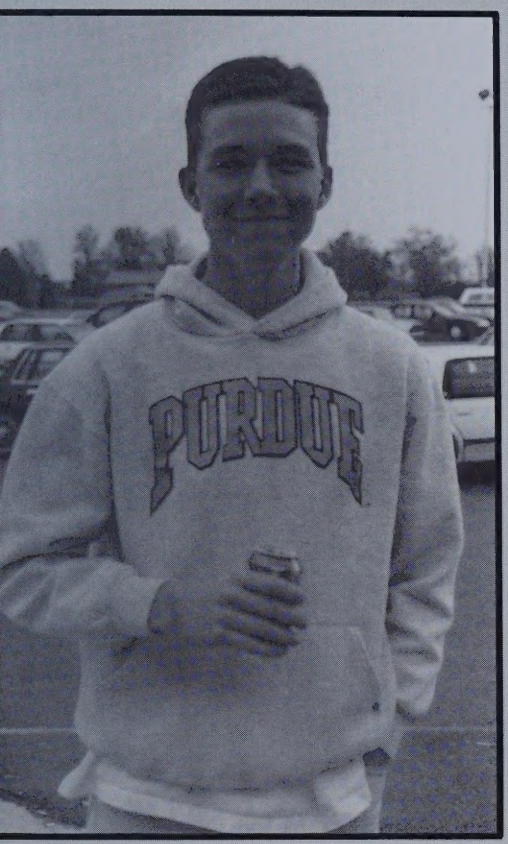
His talents and abilities go far beyond drinking a can of pop. Grant Stupeck was named as the Most Artistic Male.



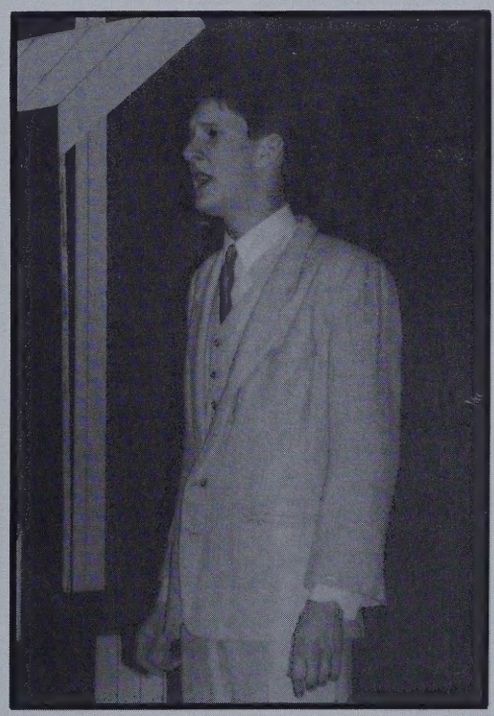
What Seniors Were Named "Most Likely"?

In the Spring, members of the Class of '94 were asked to nominate classmates who were outstanding in several different areas. Roger Deetz and Missy Lyne were named as Most Likely to Succeed. Deetz was also the Most Studious, along with Kim Reinoehl.

Overwhelmingly selected as the Most Talented seniors were Colleen McNabb and Matt Keller. Grant Stupeck was the clear winner for Most Artistic male, but Angie Wallace and Nicki Houser were a close 1-2 finish for females.

The Most Athletic winners were Annie Recker and Todd Likens, with Andy Schmidt a close second. For school spirit, Jenny Pressler was tops, with Simon Short and Larry Yarian tied for the guys. Likewise, Andrea Pettis and Josh Newbauer were voted Class Clown with Scott Greer a close second.

The Class of '94 must be a friendly and outgoing group because over sixty classmates were named in these areas, with no one person getting more than sixteen votes.



Playing the part of Prof. Harold Hill in "The Music Man" is Matt Keller, selected as the Most Talented Male by his classmates.

Headed for third base on the way home, Todd Likens got the nod as the Most Athletic Male member of the Class of '94.

What Holidays Does DHS Celebrate?

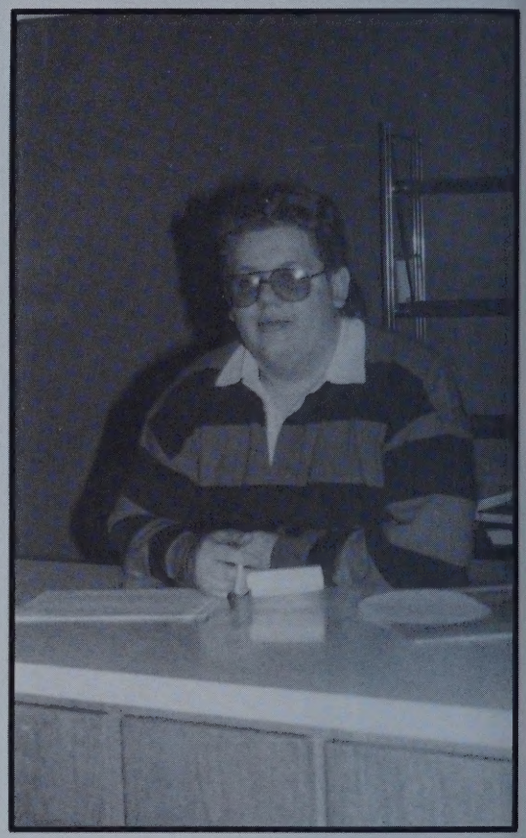
Holidays play a major role for some organizations at DeKalb High School. Some of these holidays include Halloween, Veterans Day, Thanksgiving, Christmas, Valentines Day, and Easter. The most popular of these holidays is Christmas.

During Veterans Day, students and faculty gathered into the gymnasium to partake in one of the few convocations that we had. Veterans Day is one holiday we are proud to celebrate because some of our faculty and staff members are veterans of wars.

During Christmas, DeKalb participated in the Adopt-A-Kid program that allowed students to become either a big brother or big sister and help out little kids. Other DeKalb Baron activities that celebrated Christmas were show choir and band concerts. Even the cheerleaders got into the Christmas spirit by dressing in Christmas clothing at one of the home basketball games.

For Valentines Day, the French Club raised money by selling and handing out carnations to the students .

Shawn Hodel helps the FEA raise money for their organization by selling egg-grams to the students just before Easter.



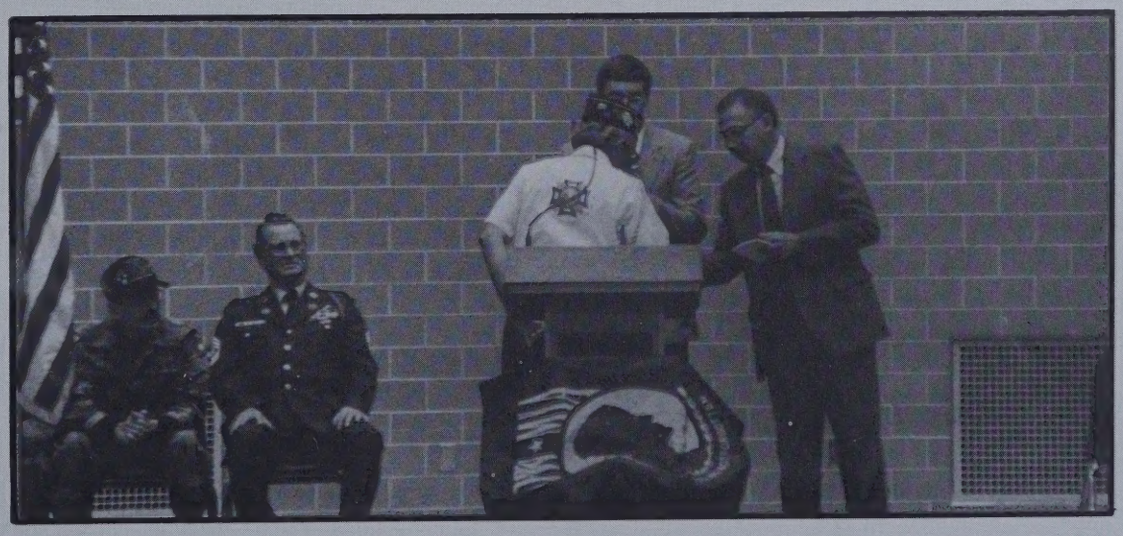
Dressed as an elf, Carol Valdez exchanges hand shakes with DeKalb High School's very own Santa Claus.

Taking part in the Christmas spirit by wearing the hats and putting up lights are Mrs. Hirschy, Mr. Knox and Mrs. Lochner.

Even the cheerleaders can get into the spirit by dressing in Christmas clothes at a basketball game.

During December, DeKalb participates in thecanned food drive to help the needy with unperishable foods.

The Adopt-A-Kid program was as popular as ever. Seen left, one of the kids receives a gift from Santa.



During Veterans Day, Mr. Vick and Mr. Hummer exchange handshakes with a World War II veteran.

Where Did You Go For Your Spring Break?

Spring Break is one thing most people look forward to all year long. Most people call their friends, get their money together, pack their bags, and go cross country. This year the "hot spot" seemed to be Forida. Maybe it was to get away from the long winter or just to get away; anyway a lot of the Barons headed south to the sunny beaches. Still others preferred to stay home to relax or hang out with their friends. Some stayed home to sleep and others to work just to get that extra cash.

As we came to that time of the year, it looked grim because it seemed that winter would never end. All of us who stayed home waited and anticipated the vacation to see whether we would have any snow or if winter would truly be over. It seemed that the weather knew and held back the snow till after the break. It even reached 70 degrees on Wednesday.

Now, we look back and see how much fun we had despite the weather and remember the good times.

Having a good time at Daytona Beach, Florida, are Tony Dollier, Lyndsay Replogle, Stacy Sanders, and Sara Carper.

Visiting Miami, Florida, and having the time of their lives during Spring Break are Christy Malott and Christina Valentine.

Visiting Naples, Florida, were Nicki Houser, Diana Purvis, Karla Gaier, Staci Keller and Stacy Penland.

On a Canadian camping trip for their entire Spring Break are Danielle Kilgore and Angie Miller.

Monica Gilbert, Leila Djepbarova, Jennifer Woolever, Marcia Emilia Simo, Maridel Carmen Simo, and Mrs. Karen Knott visited the Hard Rock Cafe in Chicago.

Seen here is Casey Bishop arriving at the airport in Tampa, Florida, where she went for vacation.

During their Spring Break, these nine Brigadiers performed for ISSMA and received a first division rating.

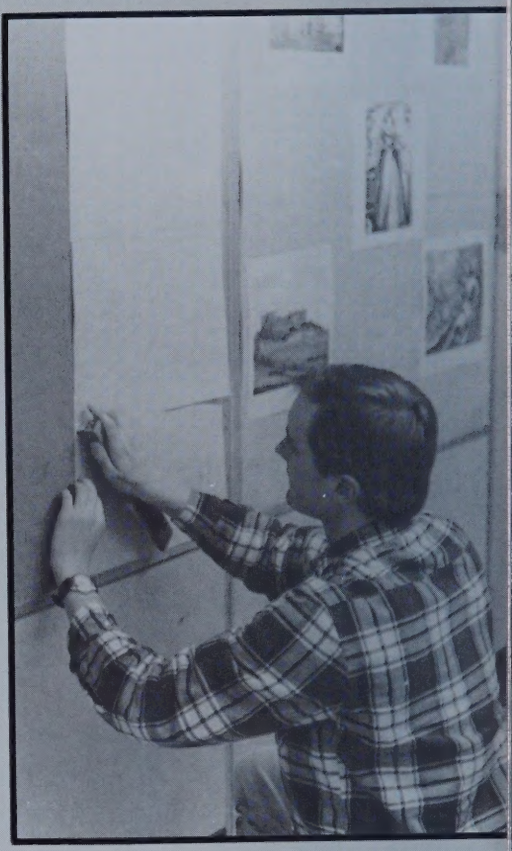
How Do Barons Escape From Study Hall?

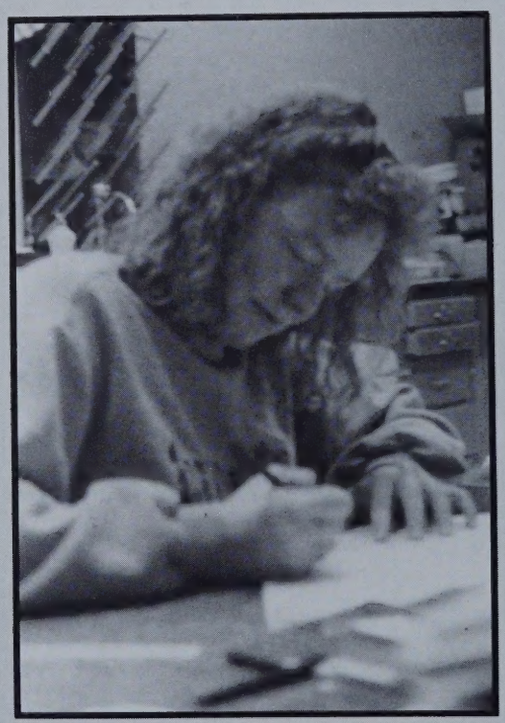
Students in grades ten, eleven, and twelve who have a study hall are eligible to become a student service worker. They are assigned to a variety of areas. Students may work for a classroom teacher, for the Media Center, for the Main Office, or for the Guidance Office. They may also assist in many of the vocational classrooms where they can gain extra experience.

Many teachers request student helpers so that they don't get overwhelmed by all of the homework and all of the little things that need to be done. These teachers are very grateful for the tasks that are performed by these students.

Students can be asked to put up bulletin boards, put artwork up in a display case, grade papers, tutor, collect and file the attendance sheets, or even take passes to unlucky students. When the year finally comes to an end, the school shows their appreciation for these student service workers by hosting for them a breakfast.

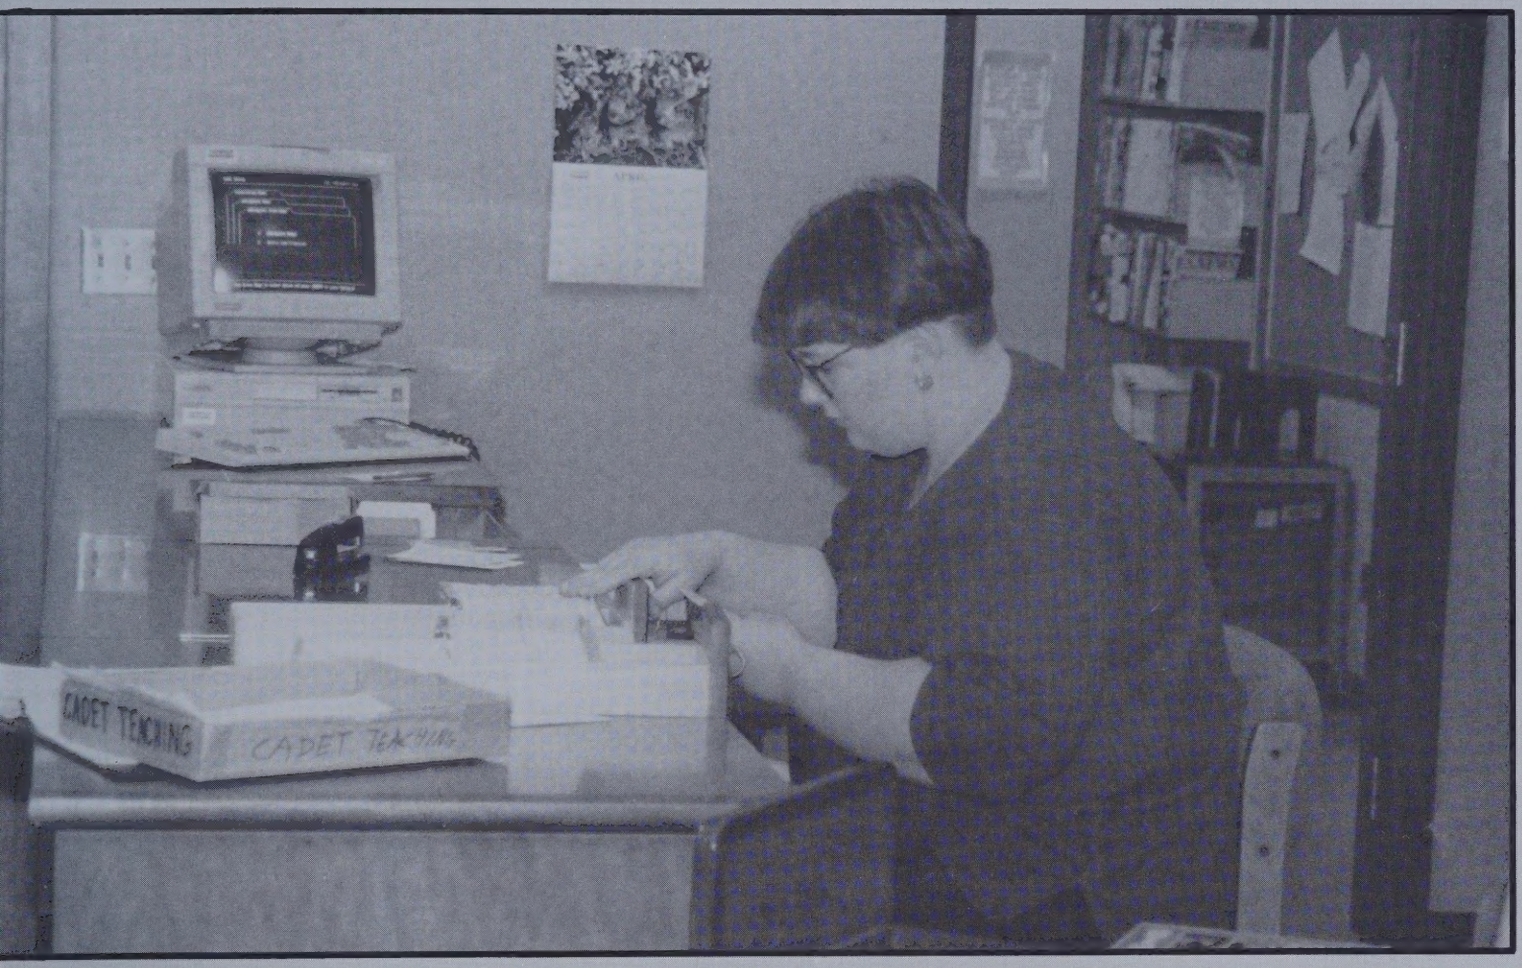
Chris Hummer puts up a bulletin board for Mrs. Gay Kirkton as part of being a Student Service worker.



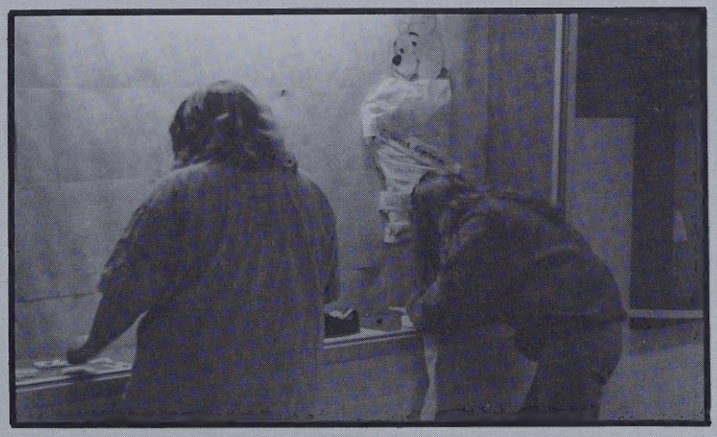


Becky Cranor is a Student Service worker for Mrs. Tita Gordon and is seen here grading some tests and other papers.

Ryan Webb is busy putting some new music in the Symphonic Band's folders for Mr. Richard Karkosky.



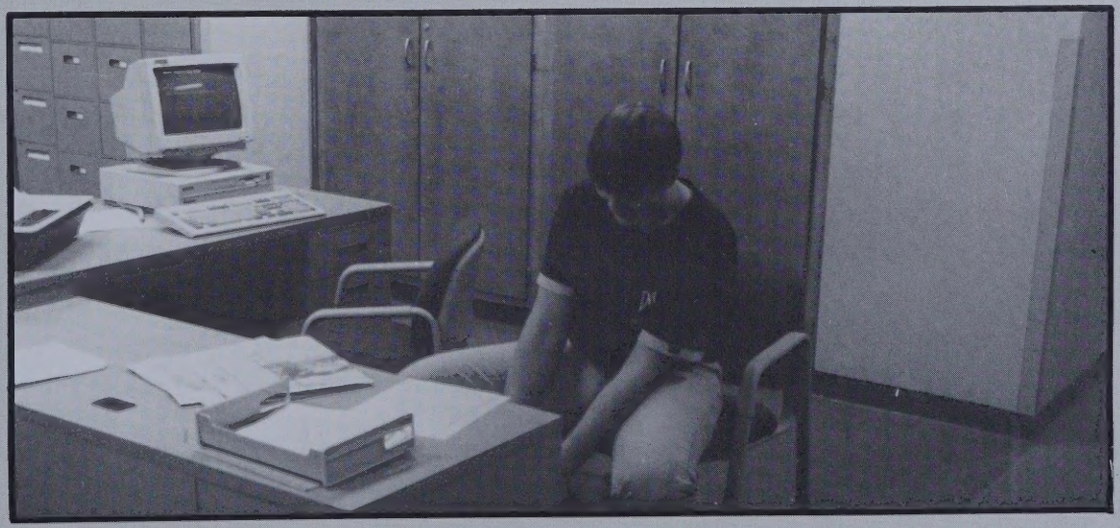
Holly Albright is seen here waiting for a pass to take to someone to come on down to the Guidance Office.

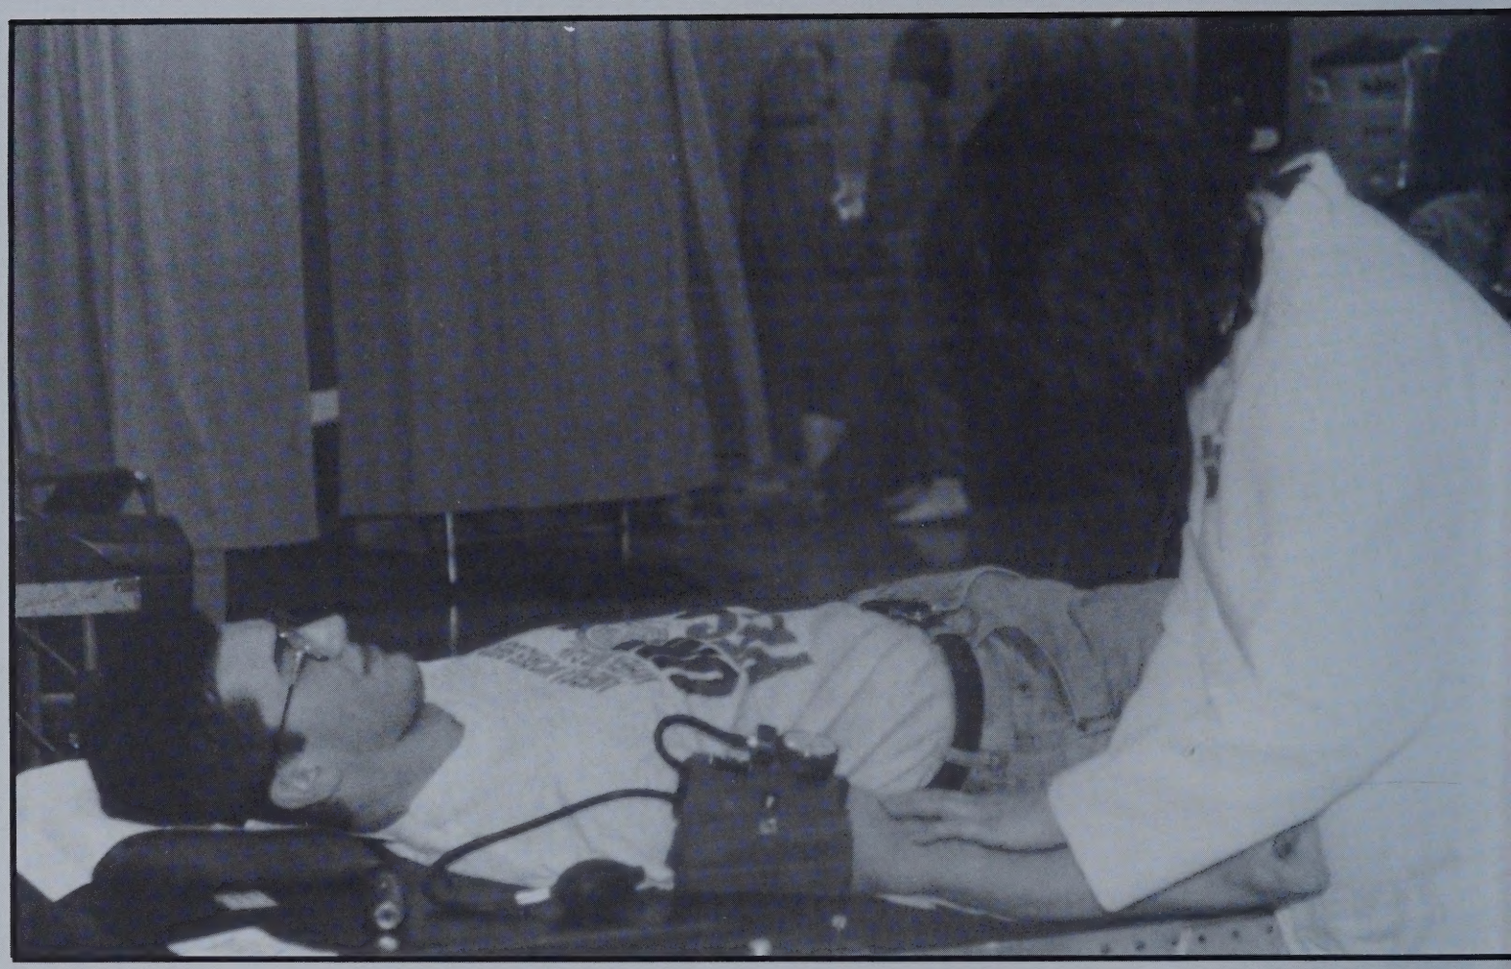


Emily Depew puts new cards in the card catalog for Mrs. Judy Waanders and the Media Center.

Jeanine LaRue and Missy Ponko are busy putting up a bulletin board for the Literary Club.

Sam Bradley puts the attendance sheets in the teachers' folders for the main office.

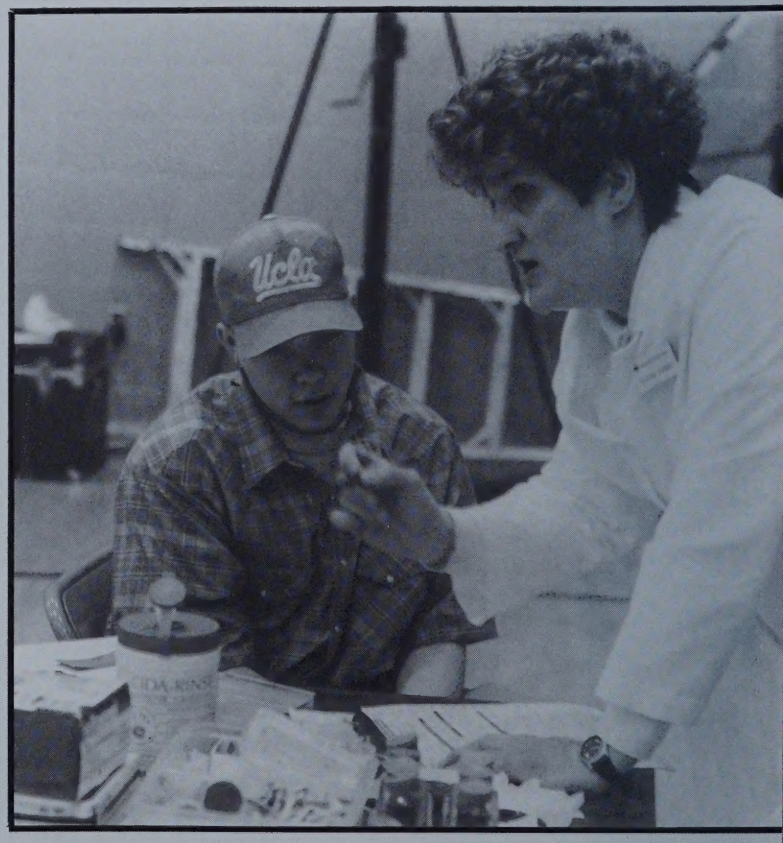




Jack Close tightens his grip as the nurse checks his blood pressure to see that he is okay.

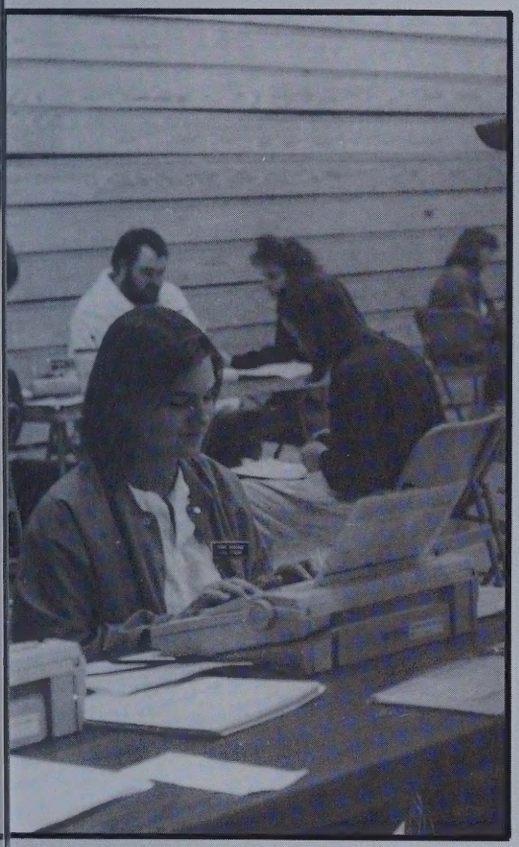
Gabe Pranger replenishes himself with some orange juice and cookies after donating blood.

Abigail Horrum is seen here giving blood for people that might need it in a medical emergency.



Tim Thompson looks very concerned as to what is going to happen during the time that he gives blood.

Tammy Brinkman is busy typing away at the typewriter as people give the information needed for the bloodmobile.



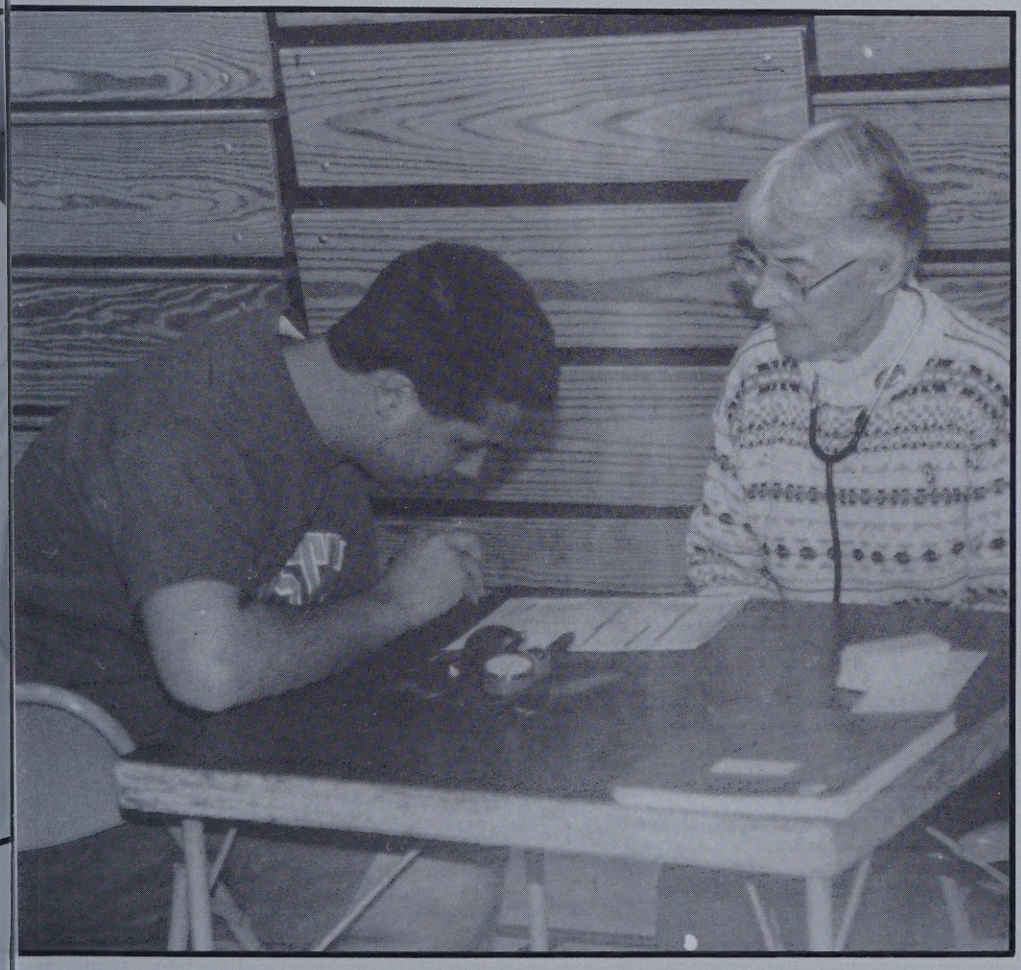
Did You Give Blood At The Bloodmobile ?

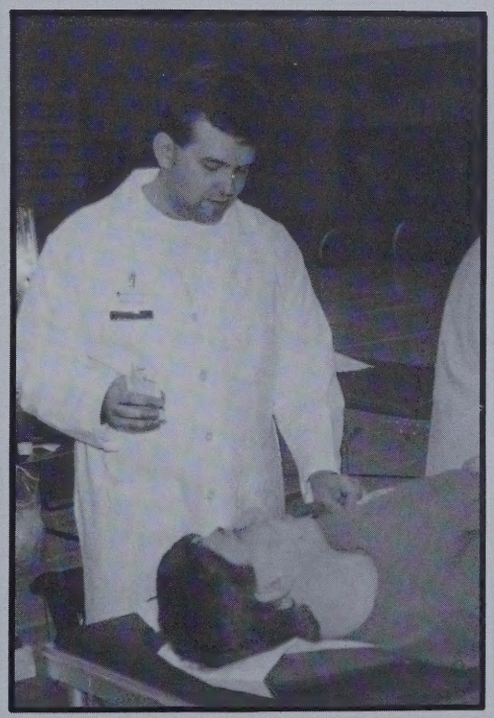
The Red Cross Bloodmobile comes every year to the high school. People are given the chance to donate blood to help people who might need it later. But not all people can give blood. To be eligible, a person must be at least seventeen years of age. Other requirements were to weigh at least 110 pounds and not be taking any kind of medication.

The procedure for giving blood involved a number of steps. After being cleared as a donor, it was on to your designated station which had one nurse supervising three beds for donors to lie down on.

After your blood bag is full--it takes longer for some people than for others--you will be helped by one of the HOE students to the tables where all of the food is.

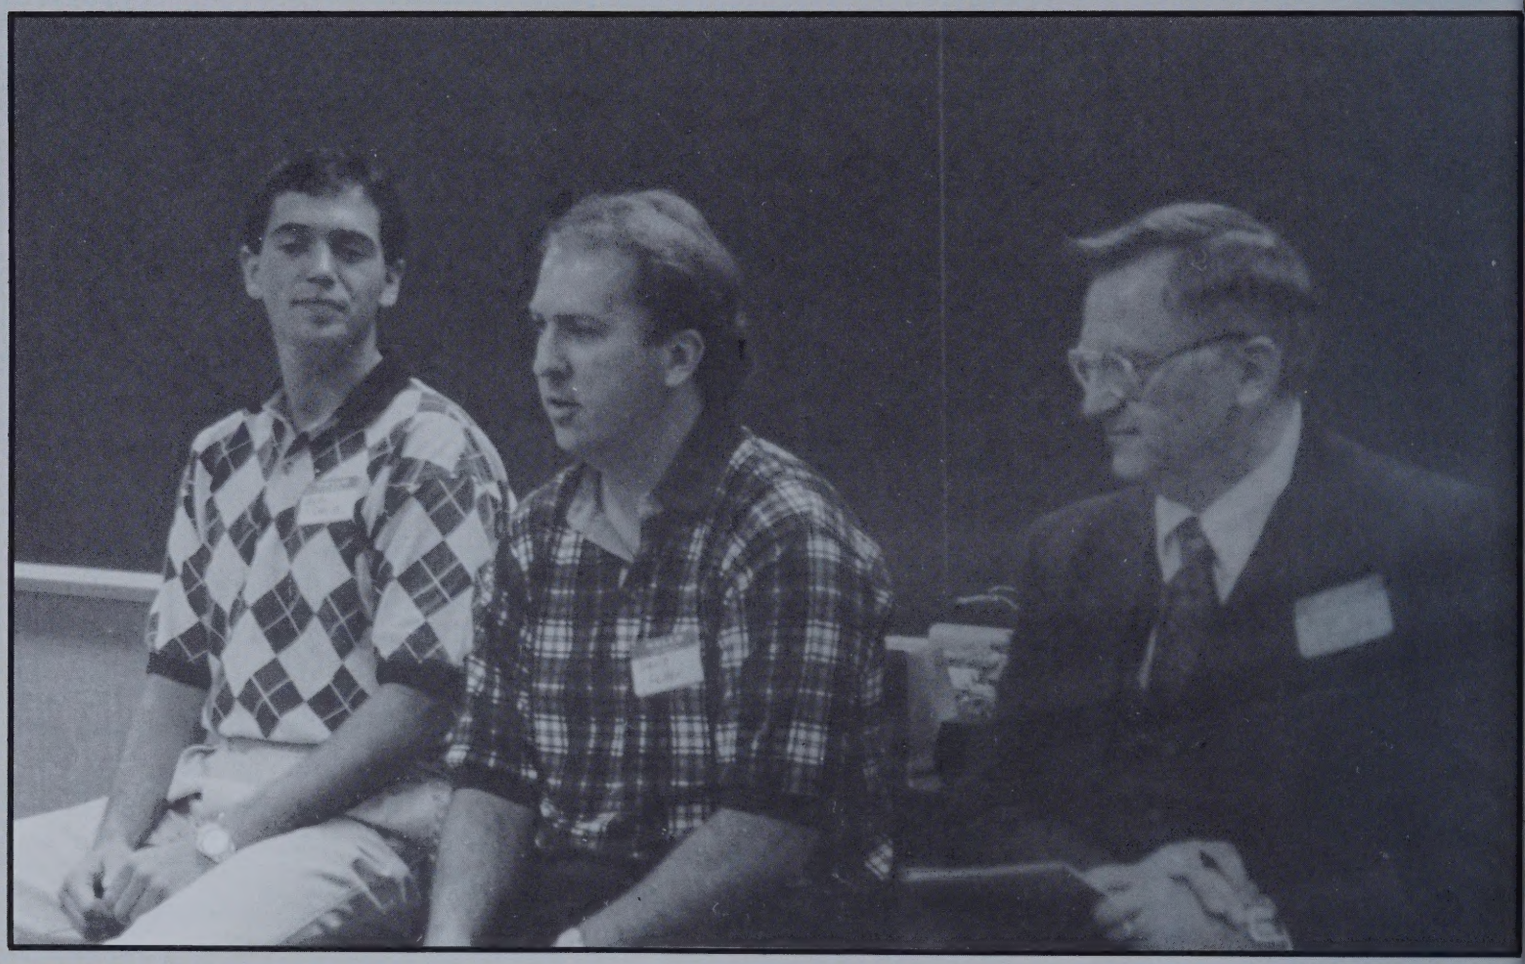
About two to three weeks later you will receive a blood donor card including your blood type. By that time, you might have decided that it was all worth it and will do it again the next time the Red Cross bloodmobile comes to town.





Joe Wurm is seen here taking it easy so that the doctor can do a run-through with him so that everything will go smoothly.

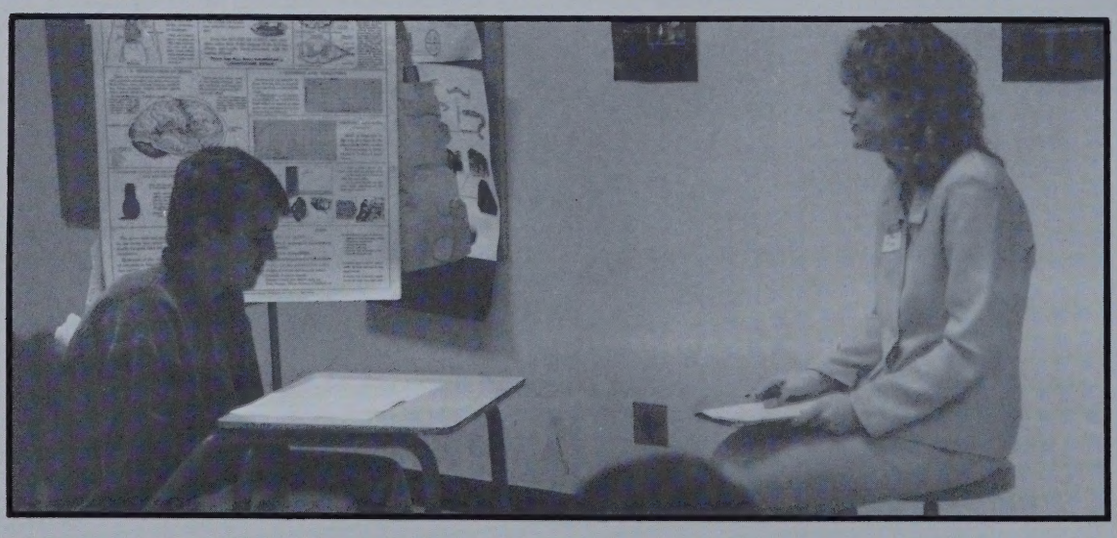
Jeremy Weaver checks to make sure that everything is correct on his sheet so that they know the background of the donor.

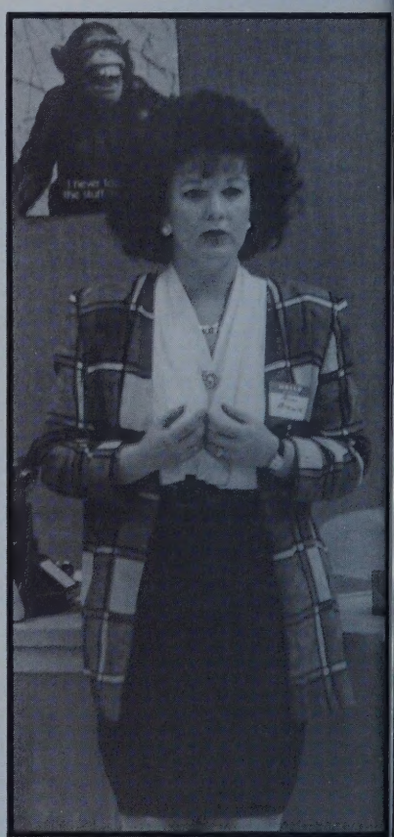


Seen here, Andy David, David Feller, and Roger Souder talk about all of the different duties of a mortician.

After the attack on Officer Getts, Sergeant goes and checks on a group of Barons who look a little worried.

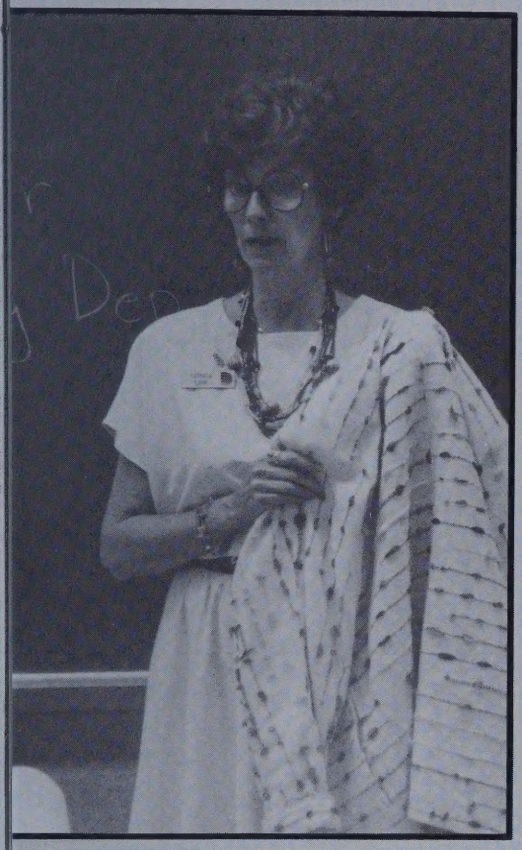
Joni Rupp from Flexible Personnel tells the students in Mr. Moreland's class what to do in an interview.





A representative from IPFW talks to Mrs. Heminger's class about what IPFW has to offer.

Patricia Lahr describes what kinds of things that you could possibly create or even come up with in the U.S. as a decorator.



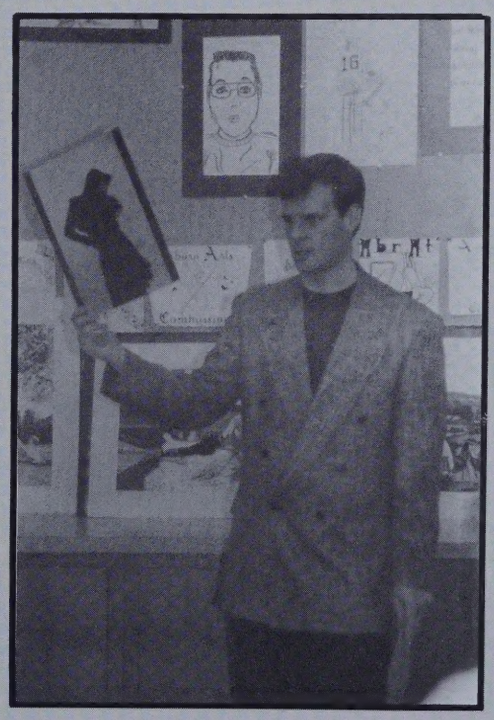
Who Came To Speak At Career Day?

What are we going to do after we graduate? This question faces all high school students. For some, the choice is easy. Others still don't have a clue about their future even as graduation day approaches.

In an attempt to bring us face to face with various job possibilities, DHS sponsored a Career Day on the morning of April 15. Most teachers invited guest speakers from various aspects of the world of work to make presentations and answer questions. A wide variety of career opportunities was presented.

Students learned about being a publicist, a surveyor, a mortician, and a judge. Other professions represented included pharmacy, engineering, commercial art, and psychiatry.

The speaker's topic was usually related to the subject taught by that teacher. A few teachers had no speaker, but showed some of the school's career video tapes instead. All in all, Career Day gave us some more information to assist in making those all-important decisions facing each of us.



Ron Sanders talks to Mrs. VanHorne's class about the kind of things that he does as his job of being a commercial artist.

Rick Getts and Sergeant show a group of DeKalb students what an attack dog will do to a run-away suspect when he gets a hold on them.

As the play ends, the Music Man, Matt Keller, is astonished at the music the town's band produces.

Their wives and friends join the School Board in rehearsing a song to sing at the ice cream sociable.

The School Board is surprised to discover that 2 guys stayed on a mat without moving a muscle for hours.

Concerned about her children, Mrs Paroo, played by Celeste Reynolds gives someone a piece of her mind.

Amanda Bowser and Marcus Reese portray citizens of River City who have just learned a dance taught by Professor Hill.

What Newcomer Brought Music To River City ?

River City, Iowa, in July of 1912 came to the stage of the auditorium on the weekend of May 6. Three performances of "The Music Man" by Meredith Wilson were given by a large cast of both high school and elementary students.

The title role of salesman "Professor" Harold Hill was played by Matt Keller. He come to town determined to sell the townspeople musical insturuments and uniforms for a band, passing himself off as a graduate of a nonexistent Gary, Indiana, conservatory.

Shortly after he arrived in town, Hill met Marian Paroo (Jenny Crager), the local librarian, and the lives of both were changed. The townspeople, always eager to add some more "culture" to their otherwise rather dull lives, saw Hill's band as a solution to more than one of their problems. As the song said--There was Trouble in River City... with a capital "T" ....

By the end of the play, Marian's brother Winthrop's lisping problem is solved,the town has its band, and Harold and Marian are a couple.

Marian the Librarian receives a special little kiss from her brother Winthrop, who just wanted to show he loves her.

Mayor Shinn (Sean O'Dell) tells the Indians (School Board) that he wants them to check up on Hill's credentials as soon as possible.

How Much Did You Plan For The Prom?

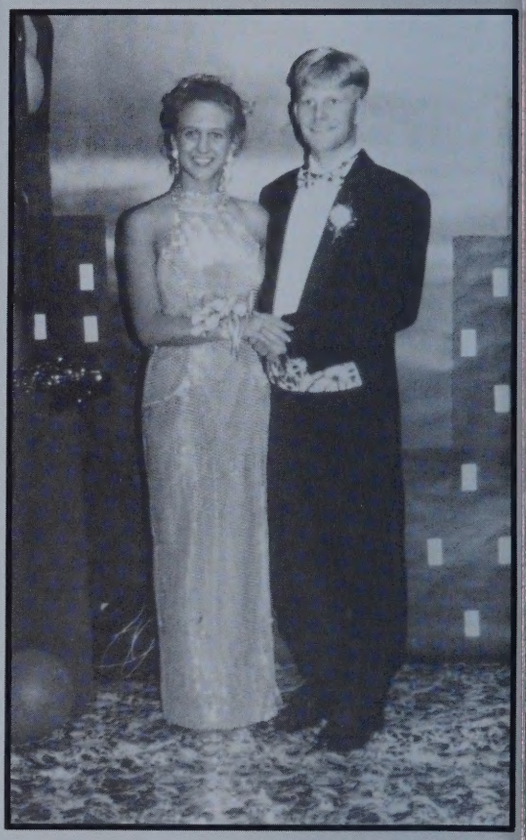
When someone says "prom," most people think of a night of dancing and having fun with friends, but it is a lot more. A lot of planning and preparation goes into getting ready-- especially for the girls it would seem.

Starting months in advance, they try frantically to get every detail perfect and every minute planned. They also have to get "the dress," which can't be like anyone else's and, for many, has to be the most expensive they can find.And then there is the restaurant. It's not so much the food or the service; it is the name. And reservations must be made far in advance.

DeKalb's prom was no different. When May 14 finally arrived, the cameras were running full speed recording every special moment including the Grand March.

After the prom there was lots to do with movies, a casino,a dunktank,and basketball, but what seemed to be the most popular was the live bands. Early Sunday morning many boarded a bus headed for Cedar Point and a day of fun.

One "must do" at the Prom is having your picture taken. Here, Aimee Bishop and Andy Hayes pose for the photographer.



Richard Zollman, who got a new hair style for the prom, dances with his date from out of town during one of the slow dances.

All aboard! Transportation from the Grand March to the Prom itself was provided by a Ft. Wayne PTC trolley, as these couples show.

Dawn Strawbridge crowns Jennifer Sheeler as Prom Queen as King Steve Hancock stands proudly nearby.

Can you do the chicken? These couples show that they can for one of the "fun" dances at the Prom.

Taking a break from dancing and getting a cold drink are Celeste Reynolds and Marc Bowling.

The Grand March is the beginning. Rachel Culbertson and Kevin Diehm start their walk across the gym.

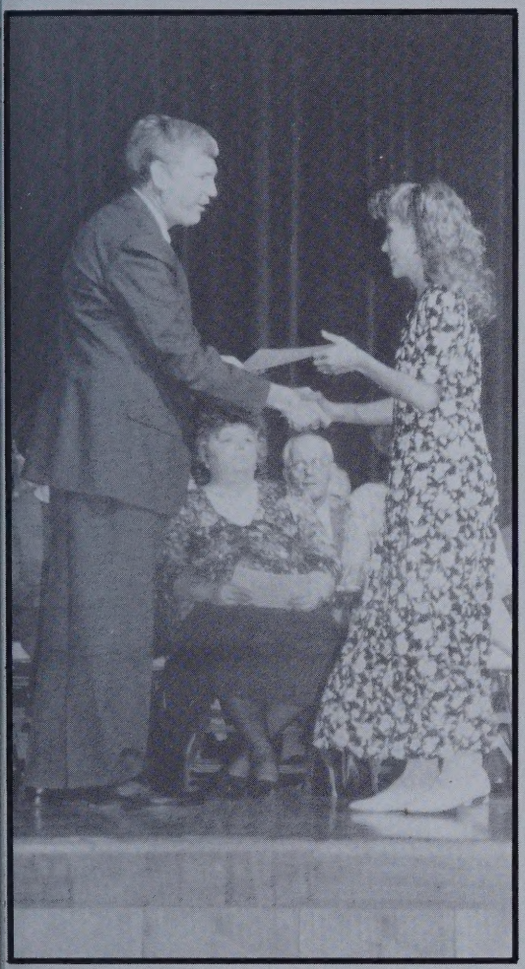
A new award, the Fr. Tom Lallak Tennis Scholarship is given by Mr. Dick McKean to Melissa Sutton.

No stranger to the auditorium stage, Jenny Crager accepts the Dramatic Arts award from Mr. John Wilson.

Amber Woebbeking seems pleased to receive a Nucor scholarship from Mr. Jerry Demars. She was one of four to receive this honor.



Which Seniors Were Honored With Awards?

Many nervous seniors and their families and friends gathered in the auditorium on the evening of May 16 to discover who would be the lucky winners of the many scholarships and awards that they had applied for.

Honored as being the outstanding seniors in the school's various academic departments were the following: Brian Immel, Art; Heidi Schiffli, Business; Elizabeth Shawver, English; Roger Deetz, Foreign Language, Josh Newbauer, Industrial Arts; Kim Reinoehl, Mathematics; Celeste Reynolds, Music; Sara Trapp, Science; Melissa Lyne, Social Studies, and Cory Immel, Vocational Arts.

Seniors named as four-year honor students included Danielle Bash, David Benson, Camille Bir, Tamera Brinkman, Rhonda Carper, Roger Deetz, Carl Drew, Jacob Gillespie, Kristina Gurtner, Miles Hague, Steve Hancock, Greg Johnson, Matt Keller, Alex Kiefer, Stanley Knott, Todd Likens, Melissa Lyne, Shannon McCanna, and Susan McDonald.

Others honored were Suzanne Miller, Amy Oswalt, Kami Rathburn, Andrea Recker, Jennifer Recker, Natalee Reese, Kim Reinoehl, Stacy Sanders, Elizabeth Shawver, Jennifer Sheeler, Travis Sleeper, Lynda Stoops, Jessica Thomas, Molly Tomaszewski, Sara Trapp, Kevin Vick, Justine Wells, Kimberly White, Nicole Whittington, Jennifer Woolever, Larry Yarian, and Heather Zeigler.

Congratulations and good luck. The DeKalb Young Farmers Award is presented to Joe Richter by Mr. Nolan Johnson.

Various facial reactions are in evidence as some of the four-year honor students line up on the stage near the end of the awards ceremony.

Who Were The Big Winners At Field Day?

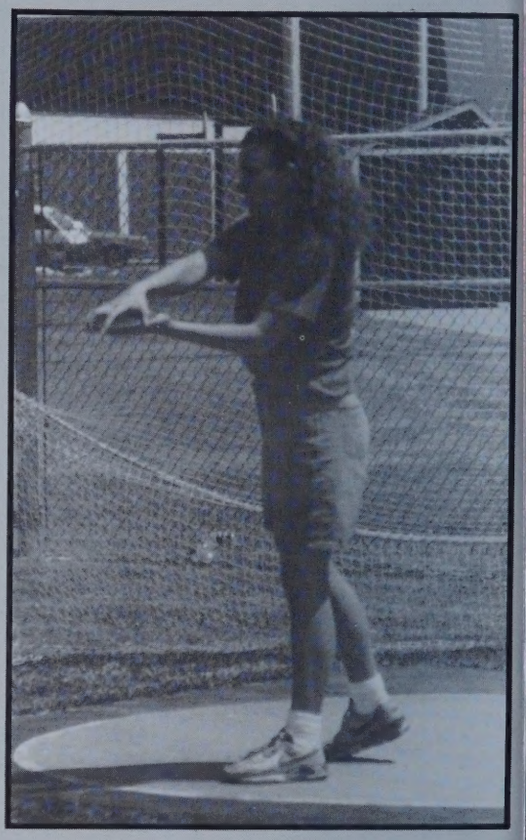
What is Baron Field Day? Well, Field Day is a day sponsored by the Student Council,where the students get to compete against each other, class against class. "Who would be the big winners at Field Day?" was the big question on the afternoon of Friday, May 20. Well, the juniors were the winners. The seniors were second, the freshmen third, and the sophomores, last.

The winning juniors, who compiled 570 points, placed first in football, softball, bat spin and tug of war. The seniors--first in discus, horseshoes, soccer, softball throw, volleyball, dodge ball and the three legged race--scored 545 points.

The freshmen, first in 3 on 3 basketball, tennis, roller blading and hackey sack had 460 points. The sophomores finished first only in kickball which, with the rest of the games, gave them 425 points.

One non-competitive event enjoyed by many was the appearance of three student-member rock bands in the auditorium.

Lori Schrimshaw throws the discus to try and win points for her junior class, but they fell short to the seniors in this event.



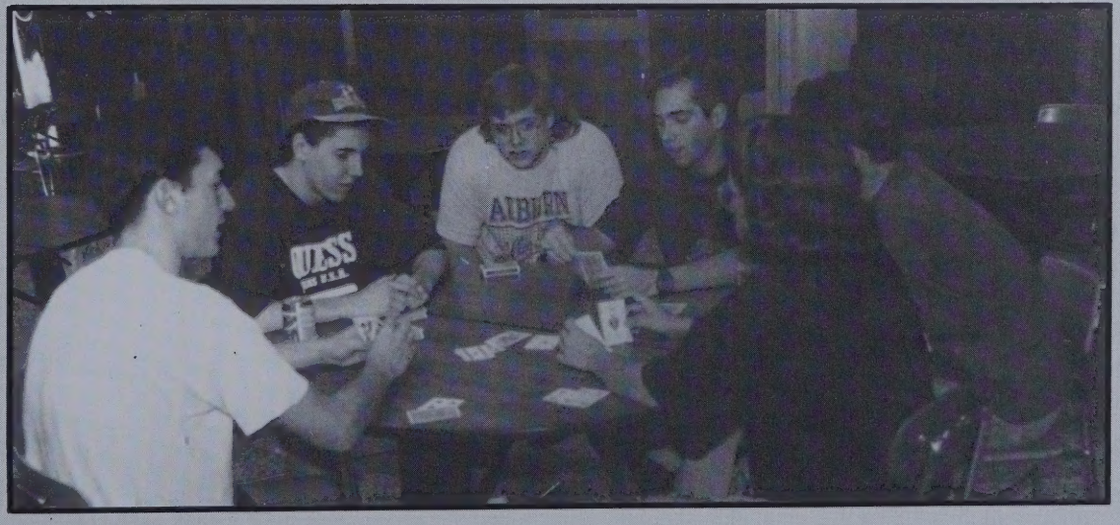
Matt Miller shows off his unique talent of unicycle riding as a way of getting around for Baron Field Day.

Iain Higgins, Tim Thompson, Jake Winebrenner, and Mike Hile are performing a song for people to listen to in the auditorium.

Several seniors struggle to hold on to the rope as they participate in the tug-of-war.

Battling it out at the net, the seniors and the sophomores see just who is the best.

Adam Hissong runs the ball down the field as Logan Kempf and Diana Purvis look on.



Playing euchre in the commons as part of Baron Field Day brought a few spectators.

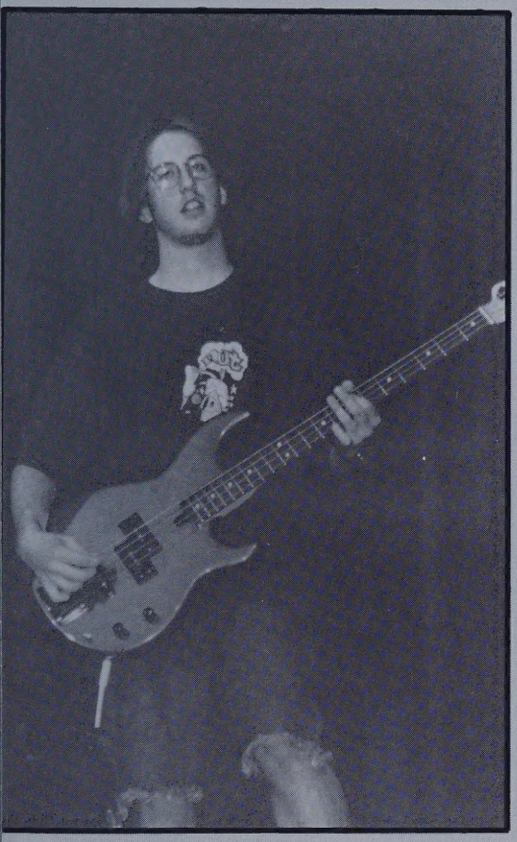
Some elementary students watch a demonstration of clay being turned into something unique.

Neil Woodruff plays his solo with the Jazz Band as part of the jazz performance on Saturday night.

Ben Huguenard and Grant Stupeck make pictures when asked to, for the elementary students.

Kate Cyran and Katie Ruch are busy putting up some of their art for people to admire at the Art Show.

Travis Robuck plays his base guitar in the band Riot Act for the people to hear on the night of Baron Revue.



What Were The Big Attractions At Fine Arts?

Fine Arts weekend involved many activities from the Art Show to the performances by the band. Baron Revue also took place during Fine Arts. The acts for Baron Revue ranged from a clarinet solo to a skit about Hooked On Phonics.

On Friday, May 20, the Art Show was visited by the elementary students from different schools. They had their chance to be drawn or to watch a ceramics demonstration. They also could look at jewelry, pottery, paintings and even some photographs. The Art Show was open to the public on the weekend.

On Saturday, there was the jazz concert and awards night for the band. The first group to perform was the middle school jazz band. This was the first year for this band. The next group to perform was the high school's very own jazz band. When the bands were finished with their performances, awards were given out. Over all, the weekend was very enjoyable.

"I'd like to register a complaint" is what Greg Johnson tells Neil Woodruff as he brings back his dead parrot Pee-Wee.

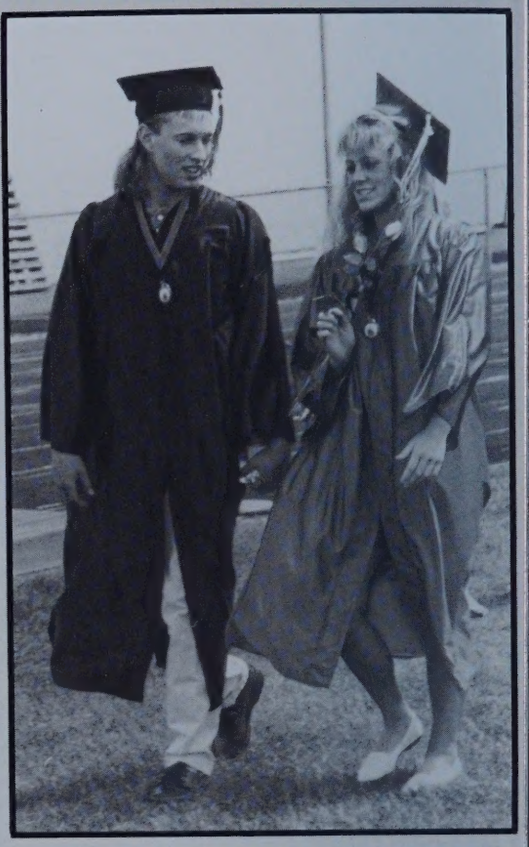
Why Was This Graduation A Special One?

Graduation day! This year it took place out on the football field on a hot June day. Many people came to see their sons, daughters, or even their friends graduate from high school. Although viewed by many as a very happy moment in someone's life, it can be a very frightening time. There are many big decisions to be made: Should I go to college? If so, which college? If I pick a college, will I be accepted? There are many more questions that the graduates must ask themselves, and there are no simple answers given to them.

It is a very special time for the new graduates who will find new and exciting things in the world they now enter. Student speakers representing the 240-member class were Todd Likens, Sara Trapp, Roger Deetz, Kim Reinoehl, and Nicole Whittington.

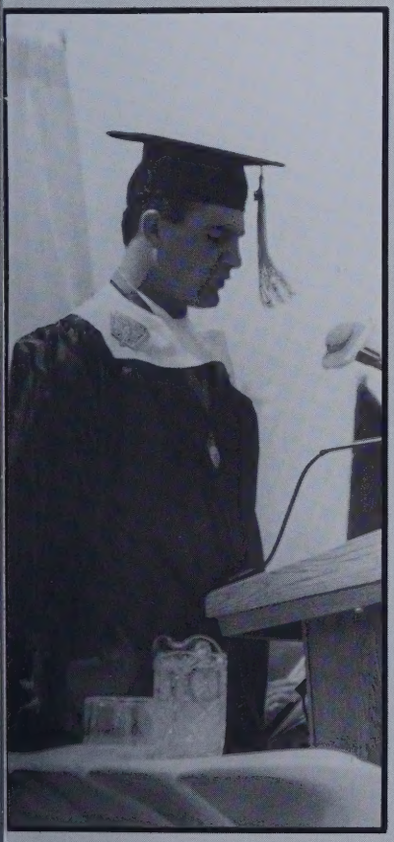
Perhaps the class motto expressed the attitude of many: "Life can only be understood backwards, but must be lived forward."

Toby Days and Lindsay Carper look as if they are discussing their plans for what is to come in the future.



Kenny Zortman, alphabetically last again, finally receives his high school diploma with a parting smile.

The Alumni Speaker, Susan Christman Bury, gives a speech to the seniors about the challenges and opportunities that lie in front of them.



Todd Likens is seen here giving the welcoming speech to those who came to the graduation.

Matt Keller and Colleen McNabb, accompanied by fellow classmates, perform "These Are the Days."

Mr. Richard Karkosky is leading the band in the traditional "Pomp and Circumstance" for the graduates.

The soon-to-be graduates take a minute to think long and hard about where they will go.

ART, HOME ECONOMICS

The Art and Home Economics classes were designed for the creativity of our students. The Home Ec. department classes included Clothing I and II, Foods 9 and Foods I and II. Special courses of housing, family care and child development were also offered.

The Art Department included everything from drawing and painting to crafts,

"Having independent study of Drawing and Painting lets me express my feelings and thoughts more clearly through my art work."

Dee Somkit, Junior

from ceramics and sculpture to photography, from commercial art to jewelry, and from general art to art history.

Students chose these classes to express their own individual creativity and artistic ability. Art work which has been completed is often found in the display caes and hanging in the hallways.

The Art Department faculty includes Mrs. Jan Nagel and Mrs. Andrea Van Horne. Mrs. Pat Pitzer teaches all of the Home Economics classes. During the course of the year the students were able to take part in some field trips to the Toledo Art Museum and the Ft. Wayne Museum of Art. Home Economics classes also went on some field trips such as one to an area candy factory.

In May the students were given a chance to show off their own art work in the DeKalb Art Show held in the gym.

MATH, BUSINESS, DECATHLON

Both the Math and Business Departments are very popular. Both departments deal with skills that students might be able to use after graduation. The Decathlon team gave its members a chance to learn more about a wide variety of topics.

Decathlon competition involves contests in ten different areas. The teams compete on various levels, depending upon their grade point average. The major meet was held at Northridge High School. Taking part on the Honors Team, Carrie Johnson placed second in Language and Literature, and Nika Stofkova was second in Social Studies. The Scholastic team had the following places: Eric Eschenauer, First in Science; Miles Hague, First in Fine Arts and Second in Social Science; and Todd Likens, Second in Speech and Third in Science and in Essay. Meanwhile, two Varsity Team members placed third in Science: Shawn Hodel and Ben Huguenard. The team also placed third in the Super Quiz.

"Math is important because you can use it for the rest of your life and in a lot of different careers."

Kelli Foster, Sophomore

Two years of math is required, which is supposed to meet whatever needs we have, from learning how to handle real numbers to being able to do the complicated formulas involved in Analytic Geometry and Calculus.

No one is required to take any classes in the Business Department, but many do. Accounting and Business Law are two of the classes. Several others deal with using the computer, a topic of interest to many. Students headed for a career in office work could also learn such things as Office Procedures and Shorthand. Those fully dedicated students could take the two hour class, Intensive Business Lab, where most of the year is spent out in the community gaining actual work experience.

LANGUAGE ARTS, SPELL BOWL

Language is a communication skill that is needed by everyone. DeKalb offers it in two important departments. The largest of these is the English Department. Each student throughout high school is required to take four years and must have at least eight credits to graduate. Freshmen and sophomores take a general English class. Juniors and seniors can choose from a wide variety of electives consisting of literature, composition, speech, and vocabulary.

The Foreign Language Department is very popular. DHS students may choose between Spanish, French, and German.

"Learning German now I think will help me learn good communication skills for my job when I get older."

Jeremy Sassanella, Freshman

These classes give the students an opportunity to learn a new language as well as new customs and traditions. During the year some of the German classes visited Frankenmuth, Michigan, for a field trip, and the Spanish III classes went to the elementary schools to teach the younger kids a thing or two.

Also dealing with language skills was the Spell Bowl team. Competing in the Fall, they took part in three major meets. They placed seventh in the NHC at Carroll, where Stephanie Foster made the second team all-conference. She also had a perfect score at the Prairie Heights Invitational. The team placed third in Class I at the North Side Area Meet.

Language is one of the most important skills you'll need in and out of high school. That's why DHS takes the time to interest the students in this important subject.

BRIGADE, BRIGADIERS, PEP BAND

The 1993-94 Baron Brigade's jazz-oriented show contained music from the Buddy Rich Suite. The Brigade's accomplishments were highlighted by successful performances by the Brigadiers. These young ladies placed third at the NHC and earned the Best Auxiliary Award at Ben Davis.

The Brigade marches annually in the Parade of Classics and the Auburn Fair Parade. It was during the Parade of Classics that they unveiled their new uniforms.

On their quest to qualify for Regional competition as one of fifteen Class B bands from northern Indiana, the Brigade dedicated many hours to improving the execution and technique of their show.

"We got really good comments from judges: They loved the show and they love what we're doing."

Mr. Dick Karkosky, Director

Season accomplishments included an improved placing at the NHC where they finished second. This second place award was given for general effect of show and for marching.

They also posted a winning performance at Greenwood where the Brigade finished fifth with the best score of Class B bands. This was followed by an equally impressive showing at the ISSMA District competition. They placed third in Class B and earned a Division I rating while having the highest scores in the marching category.

The Baron Brigade was separated by a mere nine-tenths of a point at Regional from the fifth place band and a fifth straight return to State. Nevertheless, they earned a first-division rating from the judges to end their winning season.

Many of these students also contribute their talent to the pep band. They show their Baron Pride by playing at home basketball games.

CONCERT, SYMPHONIC, JAZZ BANDS

Once the marching season was over, the bands got into their "inside" season. Concert band met daily first hour and symphonic band practiced every seventh period. The jazz band got together for an hour after school three times a week. Starting in November these bands had some sort of activity every month.

An early start to the concert season came in November with the Varsity Band Concert. Then December rolled around,

"Being in both bands is quite the experience. I really enjoyed having to learn how to play the trombone."

Jason Brown, Senior

which meant the traditional and always popular Christmas concert. The focus in January shifted to individual performances. In preparation for the solo and ensemble contest, those entering gave a recital of their contest numbers.

February found all three bands performing in the middle school commons for the Valentine concert, where concert-goers were also treated to a delicious meal. In March, the jazz band entered the ISSMA contest, where it got a second division rating in Group 3.

April was busy. The jazz band went to the North Side Jazz Festival while the concert and symphonic bands participated in the County Band Festival in Garrett. April's ISSMA contest saw the concert band judged in second division in Group 3, while the symphonic band got a first division ranking in Group 1.

May's Fine Arts Concert and Baron Revue brought the year near to its conclusion, with the combined bands' appearance at commencement in June bringing the year to an end.

Proudly wearing her concert band uniform, Jackie Fuller concentrates on the music as she plays her sax.

INDUSTRIAL ARTS

Industrial Arts has many popular elective classes for Barons which include Woods, Metals, Electricity, and Drafting.

Many Barons choose these classes so they can express themselves through their work. Learning from hands-on experience helps the students develop basic new skills that could aid them at home or on the job in the future.

During metals class, students learn a lot of different things such as sheet metal, foundry work, sand casting, machine shop, and welding. One of their major projects was a tool box. The skills learned in metals can lead to a stable career. There are three years of metals available.

"I like working with machinery, so metals class was something that I enjoyed."

Richard Sonnenberg, Sophomore

There are a lot of projects to choose from in woods ranging from salt and pepper shakers to a table. There are three years of woods available. Three years of electricity classes also offer a variety of projects. Some students made a strobe light, for example.

If you like building things, drafting is for you. In drafting, students learn how to do landscaping, floor plans, and blue prints. At the beginning of the year in architectural drafting, students draw a floor plan of a house. At the end of the year, they build a model of the house. Drafting is a good class to have if you decide to become an architect or engineer. Three years of drafting are available.

Other classes in the Industrial Arts field are basic classes in auto mechanics, building trades, and graphic arts. These are taken mainly by students who think they might be interested in taking the Vocational Arts classes in these subjects the following year.

Rick Paradise tightens the lug nuts on a tire as he completes his work in Auto Mechanics.

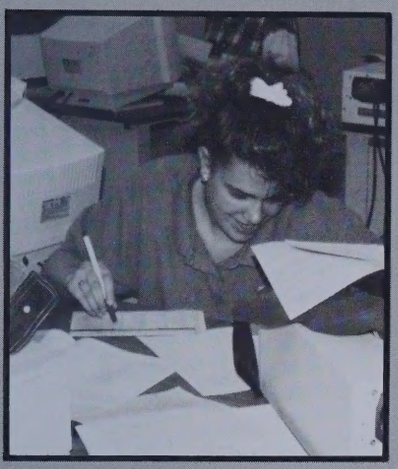
Holly Heffley has a lot of work to complete for Mrs. Bunch's Business Lab class.



Jenny Hartman strives for accuracy as she prepares her material on the Graphics Arts light table.

Chad Days overhauls the valve assembly for a tractor during his Ag Mechanics class.

VOCATIONAL ARTS

The Vocational Arts Program focuses on careers in business, industry, and manufacturing. The goal of these programs is to arouse interest and awareness and to prepare students to enter these competitive fields after high school.

The Agri-Buisiness course gives students an introduction to agricultural science and business. Farm management and business management are covered.

Building Trades provides students with the knowledge, skills, and confidence needed for the construction field. Students gain experience in carpentry, masonry, plumbing, heating, and electricity. They built the house located at First and Dewey Streets this year.

"It is interesting to see a hole in the ground turn into a $90,000 house."

Tom Eulitt, Building Trades Junior

Students in Graphic Arts classes are responsible for many printing jobs for DeKalb High School. They print such items as the Baron Shield, the DHS Student Handbook and programs for athletic events and graduation.

HOE class exposes students to aspects of the medical field. Students spend time in the classroom learning clinical instruction. In addition to this, they are placed on rotation with a variety of doctors . Eventually, they will be interned into various health facilities where they are expected to be professional and perform the medical duties requested of them.

Each of these classes provides students with unique opportunities to learn from professionals, to interact with the community, and to experience commitment and dedication needed to successfully work in any of these areas.

CLASSIC CONNECTION

Sometimes it seemed to members of the Classic Connection that a large portion of their life was being spent on a bus. That is because they took part in twelve contests, some of them involving extended travel. Of course, the longest travel distance involved the trip taken in the spring to Boston and New York City. It was worth it because they won first place in the contest in Boston, being recognized for the best choreography. In New York City, they took tours of the city and observed such cultural events as two Broadway shows and Yankee games.

"I"ll never forget the trip to New York City because it was a lot of fun and a huge learning experience at the same time."

Kyle Kessler, Junior

In the NHC contest, they placed fourth, earning recognition for best keyboards, bass/guitar, female solo, percussion, and stage crew. The choir performed quite well in the ISSMA contest, getting first place in Group I and being rated first in sightreading.

Other competitions were entered throughout the year to prepare for the major year-end contests. These contests and results included Bluffton,3rd; DeKalb Fair, 1st; Piqua, OH, 2nd; Churubusco, 6th; Norwell, 2nd (Best Choreography); Luers, 6th (Best Keyboard); Lawrence Central, 7th; Carroll, 7th; and Rolling Meadows, 2nd (Best Choreography).

The Classic Connection also performed for the home folks. Concerts such as the Fall Variety Show, Christmas concert, Valentine dinner show, and the Spring "Pops" concert gave them a chance to display their numerous talents for friends and family.

"I Can See Clearly Now" is the song as the Classic Connection delivers its message at the Spring Concert.

CONCERT & GIRLS' CHOIRS

There are too many musically talented individuals attending DHS for all of them to be able to be members of the show choir, the Classic Connection. There was plenty of talent left over for the girls' choir, the Sound Sensation, and the concert choir to be large groups as well.

Although they did not take part in as many contests as the show choir, the Sound Sensation did enter several competitions. Their season opened with a presentation at the DeKalb Fair. It was an exhibition because they had won the contest the previous year. They performed in exhibition as well at the DeKalb Invitational, because as hosts they couldn't compete.

The ISSMA contest in the Spring saw the Sound Sensation being very successful. Competing in Group III, they got a first place ranking and first place in sightreading. Other contest results included first place at Lawrence Central, second at Norwell, and fourth at Carroll.

The concert choir also took part in the ISSMA contest. Competing in Group III, they received a first place rating with a first in sightreading.

The choral department presented three major concerts: one in the fall, one for Christmas, and the Spring "Pops" Concert. Many students of the department also took part in the spring musical "The Music Man."

SCIENCE, SOCIAL STUDIES, SUPER BOWL

Competition was not the major focus of the Science and Social Studies departments, but both departments took part in some competitive events. The Super Bowl team also competed well.

The Super Bowl team took part in three major meets. At the Paul Harding Invitational, the English team of Carrie Johnson, Nika Stofkova, and Andy VerHage placed first and the Math team of Camille Bir, Chad Shumaker, and Emilio Valdez came in third. In the NHC, the team placed sixth, with the Math team placing third. At the North Side Area meet the Science team of Eric Eschenauer, Shawn Hodel, Chris Opper, Josh Opper, and Nika Stofkova finished in third place.

"Competing on the Super Bowl team was important because the study skills and information I learned there will stay with me for the rest of my life."

Chris Opper, Junior

The Science Department took part in the local Science Fair on February 19. Several entries went on to Regional,with David Hefty's project gaining recognition on the national level. Social Studies students were also involved in competition. The annual "We the People" academic meet was held at Taylor University on November 18. Our team placed third among schools in the 4th Congressional District. The team of Amanda Allen, Roger Deetz, and Kami Rathburn had the top score for their unit presentation.

In the classroom, Social Studies classes included the required U. S. History, Government, and Economics. Elective classes were World History, Sociology, Psychology, Advanced Psychology, World Geography, and Current Social Problems. Science courses available were Biology, Anatomy and Physiology, Physical Science, Earth Science, Chemistry, Physics,

PHYSICAL EDUCATION

Many different classes for interested students are offered by the Physical Education Department. Drivers Education and Health are both required for the freshman year. The Health class emphasizes the interests and problems of teenagers and it also enables students to make positive lifestyle choices. Drivers Ed is a book class that must be taken before doing any actual driving in summer school.

Both boys and girls are required to take physical education in their sophomore year. A progression of skills in various activities is designed to promote physical fitness. Sophomore students also learn the rules and techniques involved in each sport studied. Upper classmen who wish to engage in more physical activity can take the advanced courses which involve work in the weight room in addition to engaging in other activities designed to enhance their physical fitness.

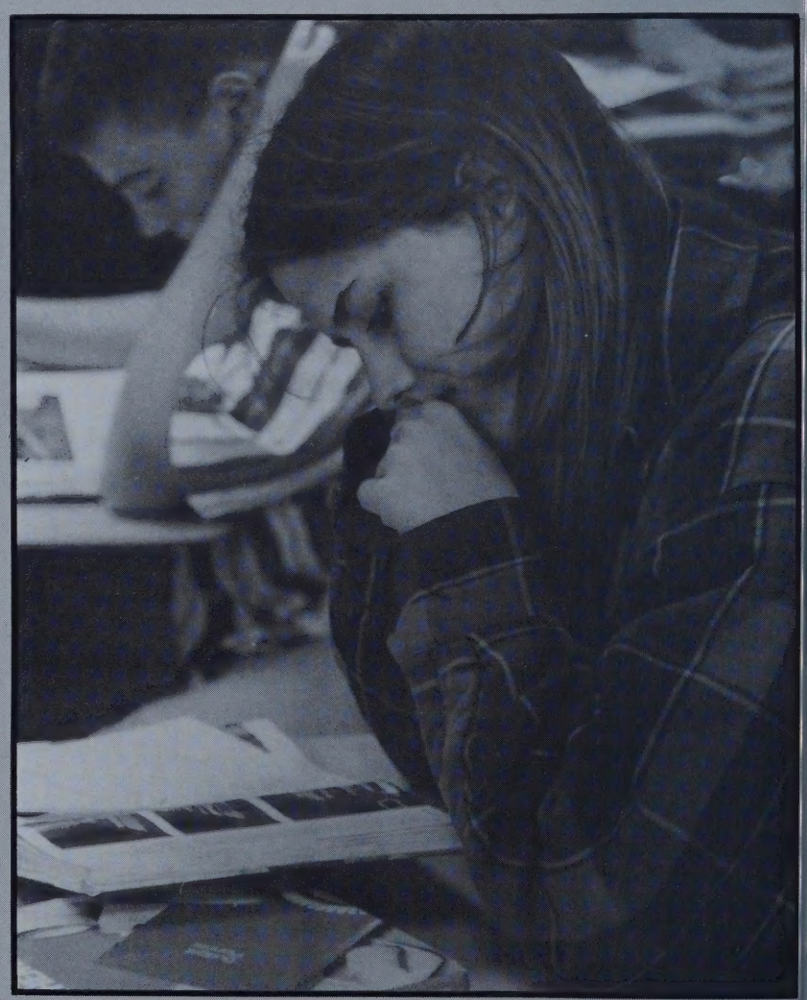
"I like Quest because the topics we talk about deal with everyday life and we can voice our opinion whether it is positive or negative."

Melissa Wade, Sophomore

Quest is a class involving a lot of group discussion covering a lot of different topics such as self-concept, feelings, family, friends, career and financial goals, and parenting. Quest's goal is to improve the quality of family life and promote positive mental health by helping students to use a variety of different skills. It is a one semester elective course.

Substance Abuse helps the students understand the physical, mental, psychological, and social effects of various substances on the human body.

Aimee Bishop, Melissa Wade, and Laurel Thompson discuss the skit they just finished in Quest class.



Deep in thought, Carrie Kogin struggles to stay awake to study her Drivers Ed book.

Fourth State Meet For NHC Champs

The girls' cross crountry team fulfilled many dreams this season. They achieved many rewards along their path to victory. First place finishes were earned at Snider's Hokum Karem, the Northrop and Bloomington Invitationals, and the Northeast Hoosier Conference Meet.

They ended this impressive season with a 7-2 record and a repeat trip to state where they finished fourteenth.

Lyne finished with a time of 15:45 at state. Her best time of the season was 15:05 at the Manchester Invitational. Lyne's fellow senior Jenny Recker finished at state with a time of 16:45. Recker's season-best time of 15:15 was at the Manchester Semi- State.

The girls added to their success by earning numerous personal recognitions at the conference, sectional, and regional levels as well as at various invitationals.

Experience proved to be the key they needed. Coach Rayle provided some insight: "If a person puts in the effort and does what is right no matter what others are doing around them, they'll become natural leaders," he stated. "This was the main reason our team has been successful the past four years."

When asked about his group of athletes, Coach Rayle noted it best when he said, "Wow! What a great feeling to have when your team makes it to the state finals four years in a row. All I can say is what a great group of athletes this team was."

Markley Leads Team To Regional Level

The boys' tennis team had an impressive season record of 11-4. Highlights included winning the DeKalb and Northside Invitationals and the sectional. They also finished third in the NHC.

"Derek Markley has improved his game a lot. He's improved from a defensive, consistent player into an offensive, aggressive player," remarked Coach Koehl.

Markley, at number one singles, had an outstanding record of 20-2. He also qualified for State, made All-Conference First Team, and Honorable Mention All-State Team.

Named Academic All-State was Senior Roger Deetz. He was the number one doubles player with a career record of 27-12 and a season record of 13-7.

The message that Coach Koehl portrayed to the team was "to work on improving our play so we can be at our best for sectionals and regionals." For these young men, it was a successful season.

State Ranking Goes To 8-2 Barons

The Barons had yet another successful season in football this year as they finished with a record of 8-2 as back-to-back NHC champs. This outstanding team also maintained a top ten ranking in the Class 4A State poll throughout the season.

This ambitious team managed to break numerous school records. In all, sixteen records were shattered by Weber, Barnett, Wrona, Meyer, Hissong, and Likens.

The combinations of Weber to Barnett and Weber to Likens were virtually unstoppable. Weber set a school record for the most touchdown passes (25) in a season; likewise, Barnett established a school record for most touchdown catches (14) in a single season.

The school record for most receptions in a career (64) was set by Todd Likens. Matt Meyer also had a remarkable season, setting the record for most kick-return yards in a game (192).

In addition to breaking these records, several members of this team were named as 1993 All- Conference Players. Named to the first team were Senior Todd Likens and Juniors Brad Weber, Adam Hissong, and Josh Barnett. Juniors Scott Schwab, Paul Wrona, Logan Kempf, Rob Brownell, Rich Zollman, and Matt Meyer were named to the second team.

Gridiron Frosh Go Undefeated

The junior varsity and freshman athletes in volleyball and football gained much valuable experience, a main reason for competition at these levels. Three of the four squads involved had winning records, with one being undefeated.

The undefeated freshman football team proved to be awesome, being unscored on in five of its seven games. A powerful offense and stingy defense produced several lop-sided scores. On the other hand, the JV football team didn't do as well. Shut out twice, they held only East Noble scoreless.

The JV and freshman volleyball teams' combined record was 27-22. TheJV season ended by placing second at the Westview Invitational. The kill leaders were Becky Albert, Shelley Damstra, Chris Corey, Angie McKean, and Amy McBride. Serving leaders were Melanie Gee, Natalie Seigel, Erin Carpenter, and Shannon O'Dell. The setting was handled by April Marshall and Shannon O'Dell. Shannon Wolff and Katie Turner were the defensive specialists.

The high point of the year for the 12-11 freshmen came when they won the Prairie Heights Tournament. The leading server was Nikki Rathburn, while Lisa Nguyen and Courtney Voelkel were the leading hitters.

Zeigler, Recker Make NHC First Team

Under the direction of new Coach Rick Hower, the varsity volleyball team had a winning season. They posted a 19-14 overall record and a 4-3 record in the Northeast Hoosier Conference.

During the season the girls placed second in the invitationals they took part in at Elmhurst, Concord, and Whitko.

Heather Zeigler led the team with 244 kills followed by Annie Recker (178) and Sarah Levy (117). The top ace leader was Annie Recker with 64. She was closely followed by Heather Zeigler with 57 and Jenny Barnett with 38.

The assists were dominated by Seniors Staci Keller (376) and Minde Lewis (225). Top blockers were Senior Amanda Hower, who led with 161, and Juniors Sarah Levy (153) and Meagan Bechdol (106).

Named to the All-Conference First Team were Seniors Heather Zeigler and Annie Recker. Honorable Mention in the conference went to Senior Amanda Hower and Junior Sarah Levy.

The Barons' winning season came to a close during the sectional. The Angola Hornets were defeated by a dominant Baron group in the first game. However, the Lady Barons weren't so lucky in their second game where they lost to a powerful Garrett group to end their season.

Runners Improve To 7-2 Season

The boys' cross country team improved its record to 7-2. The team's confidence was seen throughout the season as they posted outstanding victories in dual meets against Leo, Garrett, Bellmont, Carroll, New Haven, East Noble, and Columbia City.

The season's fastest time of 15:58 was posted by Andy Schmidt at the West Noble Invitational. Likewise, Ryan Rediger clocked in at 16:56. This was Rediger's best score of the season as well.

The Barons ended their season with a strong fourth place finish at Sectional. This was followed by a team effort which resulted in a ninth place finish at Regional. Coach Rayle summarized his team's effort for the season: "They proved that to be successful at anything in life, a person has to make extra effort. Without extra effort, a person or team is destined to fail."

Recognitions for the season included having Senior Andy Schmidt and Sophomore Brad Miller named to the All-Sectional and All-Conference teams. In addition to these honors, Coach Rayle felt that the Friday night team dinners were also a highlight of the season. "These allowed the kids to become a close-knit group," stated Rayle.

Freshman Aaron Ruse echoed Coach Rayle's sentiments: "There was a lot of encouragement and unity. By the end of the year, we became a family."

Golfers Post First Winning Season

Coach Gerry Nagel had his first season as the new head coach of girls' golf. Team practice sessions started early in August with the girls working to improve their skills. The season ended with a 7-6 record, the first winning season in school history.

The team set two new records for the lowest team totals with their 204 at Greenhurst Country Club against Leo and Carroll and their 199 at McMillen in Fort Wayne against New Haven.

The four seniors on the varsity team were Nicki Houser, Amy Oswalt, Andrea Pettis, and Nicole Whittington. Whittington posted the best average score of 54. She also earned team medalist honors seven times. Nicki Houser, who averaged 55.1, was team medalist four times.

Amy Oswalt and Andrea Pettis had average scores of 56.8 and 58 respectively. Oswalt also made the NHC Honorable Mention list for her score of 108 in the conference meet.

Other varsity players were Sara Winebrener and Lori Schrimshaw. Winebrenner, a freshman, posted an average score of 56.7. Schrimshaw, seeing action late in the season, averaged 58.7 for nine holes.

The team earned sixth place in the NHC meet with a 447 team tally. Their score of 467 in the Sectional was good enough for a seventh place finish.

Cheerleading Isn't All Fun and Games

Ask any cheerleader and they could tell you that cheerleading takes just as much time and dedication as does any other sport. Their summer was spent in practice for two hours every weekday morning.

The cheerleaders attended camp at Ohio State, where many new chants and cheers were learned. They attended two competitions: one at the Allen County Fair, where they placed second, and at the Indiana State Fair.

Two different squads were elected for fall and winter. The fall cheerleaders had football as their major responsibility, but they also supported the other teams. Likewise, the winter cheerleaders supported all sports, not just boys and girls basketball. Besides cheering for the teams, they made posters and hand-out gifts.

The cheerleaders were coached by Dawn Van Allen, assisted by Heather Straub and Jan Krebs.

Oberlin Makes State, Wins 35 As Senior

The varsity wrestling team had an outstanding season with a 16-2 record. The reserves also did well with their 7-2-1 record. The varsity outscored their opponents 805-331.

Leading points for the varsity were from seniors Andy Oberlin (517), Tim Day (256), James Forbes (254), and junior Chad Uehlein (352).

Oberlin, a 119 pounder, was the team leader in many areas. He set a new school record for the most wins in a season with his 35-2 record. Undefeated going into the state meet, Oberlin already had the championships at the NHC meet, the East Noble Invitational, and sectional, regional, and semi-state under his belt. One of his losses at state, where he placed fourth, was a 5-6 decision to eventual state champ Kevin Winegardner of LaFayette Jefferson.

Leading the reserves were Carl Drew, with a record of 11-1; Bruce Berryhill, with the fastest fall in 12 seconds; and Gus Stackhouse, as the leading scorer with 146 points including the most falls and the most takedowns.

Getting one of his fourteen wins is Dan Hanes, senior 125 pounder, who placed fourth at sectional.

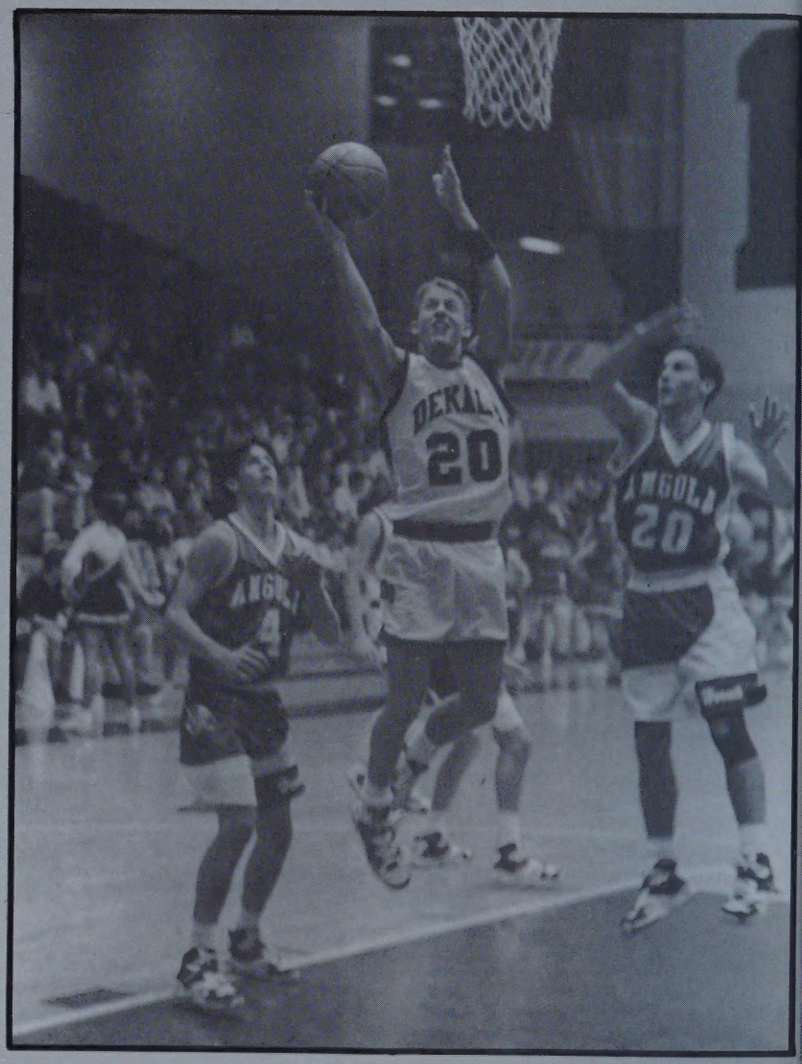
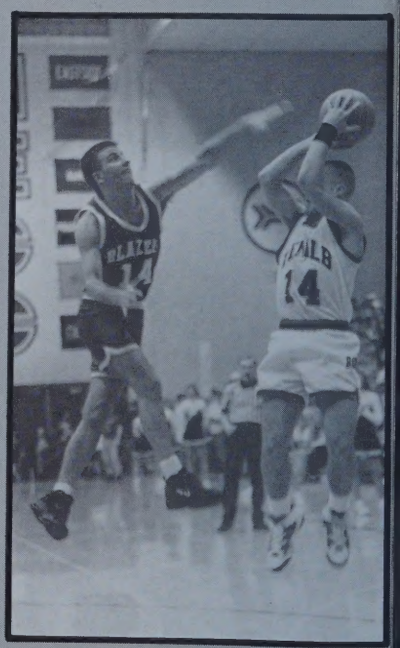
Junior guard Josh Barnett goes for a lay-up to add some more points in the win against the Angola Hornets.

In exciting Regional action against Leo, Mike Christner hopes for two to upset the Lions.





Named Area Prep of the Year by the local newspaper, Andy Schmidt tries a jump shot in the Sectional.

The varsity team and their sectional trophy are joined by the cheerleaders in a little post-victory celebration.

Senior Nate Tatman cuts down his piece of the net after the Sectional victory over Eastside.

Schmidt Sets Mark For Career Points

The boys' varsity team used their skills and experience to excel this season. They posted a 15-8 record, an improvement over the last several years.

Many new heights were achieved by this team. In sectional play they embarrassed Garrett, winning by fifty points. After that impressive win, they faced and defeated a determined Eastside ballclub. This victory made them the Sectional Champs, a feat not accomplished since 1991.

As the Barons advanced to regional play, they faced the eleventh-ranked and previously undefeated Leo Lions. And WON! The slam dunk shot by freshman Luke Recker in that game will long be remembered by Baron fans as a turning point in that contest. The game in the evening seemed an anti-climax as they lost to the tough Bishop Dwenger Saints .

Four seniors--Nate Tatman, Andy Schmidt, Matt DePew, and Mike Christner--combined for 1001 points. Schmidt, who all year was known as the defending state 3-point champ, became DHS's new career scoring leader by compiling 1,161 points in four years. He scored 383 points in his senior year.

Other leading scorers were Mike Christner with 231 points and Jeremy Pfister with 287 points. Christner and Pfister were also the top rebounders.

For the varsity team, this was the first winning conference record in eight years. Finishing 5 and 2 gave them the second place. They were also good ball handlers, having the second lowest number of turnovers in the NHC.

Overtime Victories Add to JV Success

The reserve and freshman teams had a combined record of 28-12. The reserve record was 15-7, while the freshmen had a 13-5 season.

The junior varsity didn't have any trouble putting together any kind of winning streaks this year. The team would win four or five games and then they would loose one.

The top scorers for the reserves were sophomores Jon Leslie and Kerry Vick. Vick and Kris Bloom were the leading rebounders, while Leslie was the top assist man.

The reserves played fantastic when they went into overtime with Snider and double overtime with North Side. These overtimes were won with hard work and determination from all of the players on the team.

For the freshmen, the leading scorers wer eShane Monroe and Hill Southern. Ryan Creager was the top rebounder. They did their best even if some classmates were playing at the varsity or reserve levels.

State finalists Jaime Mitchell (top) and Tina Likens work on the beam in a home meet.

Mitchell, Likens Make State Finals

The gymnastics team continued with their winning ways, compiling an outstanding 12-3 record despite some nagging injuries. They managed to score in the 90's fourteen times, with the year's highest score of 97.45 coming against Wawasee.

The Northeast Hoosier Conference meet saw the Barons scoring their highest-ever conference score of 96.55. Facing some very tough competition at sectional, a score of 93.75 was good enough for the entire team to advance to the regional for the first time in school history.

New event-total records were set on the beam (25.10) against Wawasee and on the floor (26.85) at sectional.

Two gymnasts managed to advance to the state meet: Jaime Mitchell in all-around and Tina Likens on the beam. These two were the only ones for the year to score 9.0 or better. Likens did it once (floor) and Mitchell seven (vault 4; floor 3). Mitchell set two new school records: 9.2 in vault at sectional and 35.60 in all-around against Huntington North.

The reserve gymnasts didn't do as well as the varsity, having a 7-8 record. They often lost to the larger schools that had more team depth.

Girls Break Even; Recker Scores 315

The varsity girls' basketball team was under the direction of new coach Todd Howard. The team was able to break even in a competitive season with a 9-9 record. They were 4-3 against teams in the NHC.

The Lady Barons scored an average of 56.5 points per game as compared to 52.2 for the opposition. They shot 39.7 per cent from the field (25.3 on 3-point shots) and 56 per cent fron the free throw line.

Leading the team through most of the season was senior Annie Recker. Recker averaged 17.5 points per game. She also established a new school record by scoring 31 three-point shots.

Named to the Nancy Rehm Indiana-Ohio All Star Classic team, Recker was also named to the All-NHC and Evening Star/News-Sun All-Area First Teams. Ending her high school career, Recker became DHS's seventh all-time leading scorer with 808 career points, 315 of them coming in her senior year.

A duo of juniors were a good supporting cast. Sarah Levy and Julie Conrad helped in the scoring department with Levy averaging 10.3 and Conrad 9.7 points per game. In addition, juniors Jenny Barnett and April Marshall also averaged over six points per game.

Four Lady Barons shot over 40 per cent from the field: Levy (54.8), Conrad (46.7), Tracy Hubbard (45.5) and Dawn Howard (42.9).

Leading in the steals department were Recker with 58 and Marshall with 50. Top rebounders were Levy with 148 and Conrad with 124. Conrad had 55 of the team's 66 blocked shots. Dawn Howard was the assist leader with 87 for the year while Marshall was second with 66.

Reserves, Freshmen Struggle For Wins

The girls' junior varsity and freshman basketball teams played their hardest throughout the entire season as they struggled to win games. The junior varsity ended their season with a 4-12 record. The freshman team ended with a 4-10 record.

The junior varsity team had a 42.71 shooting percentage on free throws for the season. The team had a total of 399 points for this year. One hundred thirteen of the total were made by Deidri Tompkins.

The freshman team got a thirty percent free throw shooting average, but that didn't stop them from trying their hardest. Lisa Nguyen was the top point scorer. She had a total of 84 points. The top rebounder was Mandy Boyd, who pulled in a total of 70 offensive and defensive rebounds.

For the junior varsity team the following led the team in two point fieldgoals: Courtney Voelkel (36), Lori Pfister (28), Jill Hoffmeister (23), and Deidri Tompkins (22). Jill Hoffmeister and Deidri Tompkins were the only ones who scored three-point field goals. Pfister, along with Wright, led the team in rebounds while Voelkel led in steals.

Four Tracksters Go To State Meet

The team went on to win at regional and seemed headed for a fantastic finish at state when Knott was knocked down in traffic. Even so, they finished in a time of 3:29, but will always wonder "what if...."

Brian Cashdollar, state finalist in the 200 meters, was named to the Indiana All-Star team for the Midwest Meet of Champions. Cashdollar set a new school record in the 200 of 22.4 seconds.

Team depth paid off. Logan Kempf, Mike Souder, and Matt Meyer were key hurdlers. In the distance races Brad Miller, Pat Miller, Sean Wells, and others did well. Discus and shot saw Jeremy Weaver and Scott Schwab contributing. Pole vaulters Mike Aldrich, Chris Jones, and Ryan Carper also added some points.

Sectional champs! It was one of their goals for the year and they made it. One of the strengths of the boys' track team was the relay teams. Both relay teams set new school or track and NHC records. The 1600 meter relay team set a new sectional record.

The 400 meter relay team consisted of Matt Meyer, Brad McBride, Tyson Handshoe, and Nick Tarlton. When they set a new record of 43.93 in the Northeast Hoosier Conference meet, they also set a new school record. A missed hand-off in the sectional brought an early end to their season.

The 1600 meter relay team included Brad McBride, Allen Knott, Brian Cashdollar, and Matt Meyer. They won the sectional in 3:26.11, which also set a new track record.

Armstrong Shoots 72 At Sectional

It is difficult to describe the boys' golf team. Fairly evenly matched, at times the reserve team came close to beating the varsity. Still, the varsity managed to win twice as many matches as they lost. The reserves were 9-1.

The team had placed well in a couple of tournaments, finishing second out of eighteen at Concordia and third out of sixteen at Angola. But nearly everyone was surprised when they scored 314 in the sectional for third place.

Freshman Ben Armstrong's outstanding round of 72 in the sectional played at Eel River gave him medalist honors. Andy McComb had a 78; Jason Magnuson, 80; and Jon Worthington and Nathan Gaier, 84.

In the regional at Brookwood, the Barons had high hopes. After the front nine, they held a one-shot lead over Warsaw, the eventual winner. But they finished seventh, seven strokes behind Warsaw. Leading the team was Worthington with a 78. Other scores were McComb, 80; Magnuson and Armstrong,83; and Gaier, 84.

The best 9-hole score of 33 was carded by Magnuson against New Haven. Only two of the regular varsity or reserve players failed to score in the thirties at least once.

Sutton Selected NHC First Team

Winning the sectional championship is a tradition that the Lady Baron tennis team would like to establish and keep going. They seem to be on the right track, as they did win the sectional this year by defeating Angola 5-0 and Lakeland 4-1. But they lost to Manchester 2-3 in the first round of the regional.

The team finished 5-2 in NHC play, losing to Homestead and East Noble. That placed them third in the conference. Melissa Sutton, at number one singles, made the first team in the NHC. Her season record was 15-2, losing only to Sommer Stier of Homestead and Brenna Metzger of Manchester. For only three of her fifteen wins did she have to go into the third set.

The other two singles players, Tina Gurtner at number two, and Emily Roberts, at number three, had winning records as well. Gurtner, who was 11-6, made the second team in the NHC, and Roberts was 10-7.

Both doubles teams had identical season marks of 12-5. Both were also 5-2 in NHC play. The doubles teams accounted for both points won against Manchester at the regional. Abby Horrom and Trish Korff played at number one doubles and Dawn Strawbridge and Somer Anderson were the number two doubles team.

The junior varsity team compiled a record of 11-3, identical to the regular season record of the varsity team.

Seventh At State For Missy Lyne

Although the girls' track team lacked a lot of depth in certain areas to score well in the big meets, there were several fine individual efforts.

Missy Lyne ended her high school track career with a flourish, finishing seventh at the state meet in the 3200 meter race in a season-best time of 11:18.84. She had qualified for state in the 1600 as well, but dropped out of it to concentrate on the longer race.

Hampered by injury late in the season, Justine Wells added strength to the Baron distance events. She was a regional finalist in both the 1600 and the 3200. Wells also sometimes ran the 800 meters, finishing first three times.

Amanda Hower and Sandra Hire gave some strength to the team with the friendly rivalry they had going for them in the throwing events. In the shot put, Hire placed second in the NHC (35'4") and third in sectional (35' 6 1/2"). Hower was fourth in the NHC (34'7") and second in sectional (36'5"). In discus Hire was fourth in the NHC (100'9") and third at sectional (99'). Hower placed second in the NHC with a toss of 103'2".

Sprinter Stacy Leins also advanced to regional competition by virtue of her fourth place finish at sectional in both the 100 and 200 meter races. Her season-best time in the 100 was 13 seconds flat and in the 200, 27.87 seconds.

Stacy Leins also went to regional along with Dawn Wright, Janet Kiefer, and Nichole Ferrebee as members of the 400 meter relay team.

Conference Champs Go Undefeated

Is it more difficult to beat the same team the second time around? That is the theory held by many sports "experts," and it proved to be true for the softball team in the 1994 Garrett sectional. In the semi-finals, the Barons faced and beat the Eastside Blazers, who had defeated them 2-1 earlier in the season. That put them up against the host team, who they had edged 10-9 on April 18. The game came to an abrupt halt at the end of the seventh inning with Garrett winning 3-2 when the tying run was called out at the plate.

Otherwise, the team was successful. Their 20-4 record gave them statewide recognition, being ranked among the top twenty teams. They also were conference champs, being undefeated in the NHC.

Four batters hit over .350: April Marshall (.487), Andrea Pettis (.380), Steph Sprague (.371), and Jenny Barnett (.368). The team had eight homers, with Barnett and Marshall having three each. In the stolen bases department, Teresa Glick had 24 and Marshall, 22. Lori Pfister was the one to call on for a sacrifice, which she did successfully five times.

Most of the pitching burden fell upon senior Holly Quickery. Appearing in 21 of the 24 games, Quickery's record was 15-4 with an outstanding ERA of .728. She struck out 132 batters while walking only 28. The other four wins belong to Mackenzie Evans, who appeared in six games.

The 8-8 reserves had Mackenzie Evans, Nikki Rathburn, April Rathburn, and Mandy Boyd as pitchers. Robyn Greer, Courtney Voelkel, and Carrie Akey led the jv hitters.

Three Shutout Wins Highlight Season

In its second year as a varsity sport, the soccer team ended with a 7-6-2 record. The soccer team had three shutouts and allowed their opponents to score only 22 goals. Again this season they were able to outscore their opponents.

With the need for a new goalie, the team and coaches looked to Jason Haiflich. For Jason, playing goalie was nothing new, although the last time he played was back in either the fifth or sixth grade. For not having played in about five years, he had 120 saves.

Commenting about the season, senior Jason Buckmaster said, "Losing five starters helped the team because it gave our underclassmen experience, but when the starters returned, we had a deeper field. In my opinion, losing the best goalkeeper in the conference was hard, but Jason did a good job taking over."

The team's leading shooters were Jason Buckmaster with 79 (up from his 36 last year), followed by Eric Halbakken with 38, Paul Wrona 35, John McCart with 28, and Alex Kiefer with 23. The top scorers were Buckmaster (11), Wrona (5), Halbakken (4), Kiefer (3), and Jason Wilson, Miles Hague, and Fabrico Domingos all with 2.

According to coaches Stu Wilson and Hank Zecca: "The new group of players have big shoes to fill, with the departure of the seniors."

Senior Jason Buckmaster, below, takes the ball down the field for a possible shot on goal.

During a j.v. game, Chad Lyne tries for a defensive steal as Adam Cunningham has already tried.

In the final home game, Chris Goelz (31) throws the ball into play for another possible shot on goal.

Junior Bobby Long steals the ball and has the opportunity of making a pass to Eric Halbakken.

Tradition Returns To DHS Baseball

"The tradition is back!" This was a key to the '94 baseball season. Although the team had only four seniors, Coach Bill Jones gives them much of the credit for leading the Baron baseball program to the point where it was able to win the sectional championship, a Baron tradition in the past. Advancing to the regional at Ft. Wayne's Memorial Stadium, the Barons faced the Concordia Cadets, who held a late inning rally to break a 3-3 tie to win 5-3.

The NHC crown was also firmly in Baron hands by the end of the season. Surprising many people, they were undefeated in conference action.

With a team batting average of .342, there were four hitters with averages over .350: Brad Weber (.485), Jeremy Sassanella (.441), Todd Likens (.388), and Ryan Shultz (.362). Weber had 35 RBI's and Sassanella, 32. Home run leaders were Weber with 6 while Damian Dunn had 5. Josh Barnett had 12 of the team's 38 stolen bases.

The pitching staff had a combined ERA of 3.847. Reliever Brad Weber's ERA was 1.228 in nearly 23 innings for six saves. Starter Josh Barnett (6-5) struck out 57 batters while walking 21 in pitching almost 65 innings. Scott Greer (5-2) also had one save.

The reserve team was 13-5; 5-2 in NHC play. Leading hitters were Brian Armstrong with .455 and Jon Williams with .426. They were also the top RBI men with 16 and 14 respectively.

Council Provides Forum For Ideas

Student Council is a very admirable group of people that promote harmonious relations throughout the entire school. They also improve the school's morale and advise in the management of our learning environment. Student Council members provide a forum of student expression, give orderly direction to the school's activities, and they also promote the general welfare of the students and of the school.

Student Council is vey active in all of the students' activities. They sponsor and participate in the Powder Puff football game, the Sadie Hawkins dance, Baron Field Day, Adopt-a-Kid,Teacher Appreciation Week, and the March of Dimes. They also acted as guides for Back-to-School Night, and they had a committee for revision of the student handbook.

As elected members selected to represent their respective classes, Student Council members set good examples as dedicated students and are viewed as very good role models.

Much Is Accomplished As Others Are Helped

National Honor Society is an organization that shows great knowledge and enjoys helping others. They do this by tutoring students of any age with need to improve their grades. Being a part of NHS shows students examples of scholarship, leadership, and character.

National Honor Society is also another organization that is very busy. They sponsor many things such as date and candy sales, induction, bowlathon, and a food drive for the Red Cross. They also participated in Cancer Day at Scott's Foods Store. All in all, this is a very bright group of students that like to help other people.

Fellowship of Christian Athletes is a group of people that get together to have fun. They participate in activities such as a hayride, Christmas carolling, and they also meet at several student games to cheer DeKalb on. They also raffle off the balls that are used in DeKalb's basketball games. They may be well known to do that, but they participate in many other worth while activities, such as letting people know that the Lord is their Savior.

Dedication Pays Off For These Groups

Literary Club and Speech Team are two dedicated and successful groups.

The Literary Club is devoted to exposing its members to a variety of cultural experiences and to allowing them to diversify their friendship. They handled the concessions at a football game and they sold posters for a fund raiser. They also had a read-a-thon at Scott's Foods as a service project.

The Literary Club also operated the Book Nook. The manager of the Book Nook was Missy Ponko and her assistant was Heidi Wells. Officers of the club were President Jeanine LaRue, Secretary Amanda Holben, and Treasurer Travis Lamle. The club was sponsored by Mrs. Cindy Ziebell and Mrs. Jan Pence.

The Speech Team allows students the opportunity to perform and speak in different areas of competition weekly. They compete individually in many meets. Each individual strives to achieve goals such as winning first place in an event, winning conference, going to state, going to nationals, and being in the top ten teams at each meet.

The Speech Team's accomplishments included taking second place in the NHC, sending fourteen people to regional, and Jack Close made it to state. The team also won the New Haven Invitational. Head Coach Jeff Malcolm was assisted by Mrs. Gay Kirkton and Mrs. Jan Krebs.

Suzie McDonald keeps the children interested by reading to them during the Read-a-thon that the Literary Club held at Scott's Foods.

Having A Purpose Keeps Them Going

Two more very active groups were SADD (Students Against Driving Drunk) and the Art Club. As its name implies, SADD pertains to students with a goal to stop drinking and driving. They also wish to keep their fellow DeKalb students safe and alive. SADD is a very strong club that cares about others. They speak up for what they believe in and they stick with it until they have made an impact.

SADD may seem very serious and have a good cause in mind, but they also enjoy having fun. They sponsored a dance, a convocation for Prom, and supplied the fun for the students attending the activities for after the Prom. SADD also raised money by selling Christmas trees.

The Art Club also has a very good purpose in mind. Students who are interested in art are given an opportunity to explore artistic activities outside of the classroom by joining the Art Club. This very creative and imaginative group of young adults participated in many other entertaining activities. These events consisted of working in concession stands, Halloween paintng for the downtown merchants, and sponsoring the semi-formal dance with the theme of "In the Still of the Night."

The Art Club and SADD are two groups that enjoy having fun, yet they come together to get better educated on the things they believe in.

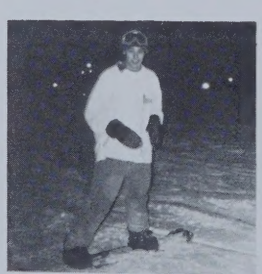
Winter Activities Keep Groups Busy

Two groups are especialy active during the winter: Ski Club and Letterwinners. The harsh winter didn't keep these two groups from their activities. The snow loving members of the Ski Club were given an opportunity to ski together in Kalamazoo, Michigan. They made trips to the Timber Ridge Ski Resort every Thursday from January through March. These energetic people attended the resort, containing fake snow, a total of nine times.

The Vice President of Ski Club, Brad Henderson, had only one comment: "It would have been better if there was real snow." No matter how many degrees the temperature dropped, these talented and enthusiastic Ski Club members stuck with their extra curricular activity.



Snow board "expert" Ty Kempf ignores the cold as he prepares to hit Timber Ridge's snowy slopes.

Letterwinners is another group of people filled with dedication. They raise money to fund the athletic pictures that hang in our hallways by working in the concession stands. They sell items to satisfy the hunger of the fans watching the boys and girls basketball games.

Letterwinners is a very active group with members that reach for their goals and achieve them. Members are awarded points for work done and those with the most points at the end of the year are rewarded.

'Future' Clubs Are Small But Active

FEA is a club that is definitely planning for the future. FEA, meaning Future Educators in Action, was sponsored by Miss Judy Eisenhut. This organization's purpose was to further educate the members and to be of service to the school and community. This intelligent group of DHS students participated in activities to raise money for scholarships to be awarded to graduating members of FEA. These fund raisers consisted of selling Christmas tree-grams and Easter eggs with a candy treat.

The Future Educators club even treated the entire faculty and support staff several times during the year during holidays. FEA is obviously a very dedicated group that wishes to further their knowledge in life.

FHA (Future Homemakers of America) develops interests in home economics and in the family. They also purchase new equipment and other supplies for their department. Sponsored by Mrs. Pat Pitzer, FHA was very busy with creative activities. A Mary Kay makeover, a bowling party, candy sale, and eating out at Chi-Chi's were such activities.

These Future Homemakers of America also participated in a spring district meeting at East Noble, after-school cookie baking, and working in football concessions.

Career Preparation An Important Goal

Both the FFA and the Future Business Leaders of America are groups that help to prepare students for possible careers after high school or college.

FFA develops leadership, citizenship and cooperation while providing agricultural knowledge and experience on the job. FFA had a very busy and successful year. In the summer of 1993 they attended the state convention at Purdue University. They also attended the national FFA convention in Kansas City, Missouri.

FFA also had a basketball team which played other teams from around the area. They won nine of their ten games. FFA gave each teacher a small jug of honey for Ag Week. FFA members conducted tours at the Deetz farm for Ag Day.

Another project FFA was involved in was bagging about 400 trees in the spring to be given to fourth graders in the school district to help them learn about conservation, a very important lesson in light of today's concern with the environment.

FFA officers were President Joe Richter, Vice-President Lynda Stoops, Secretary David Hefty,Treasurer Holly Heffley, Reporter Chad Days, Sentinel Beth Pranger, and Student Advisor Bobby Long.

FBLA is a new group that was started this year for students thinking of a career in the business world. Sponsored by Mr. Mark Rohm, FBLA had a hard time getting itself organized and planning activities. Officers of FBLA were President Roger Deetz, Vice-President Matt Keller, Secretary Karla Gaier, and Treasurer April Marshall.

All kinds of animals were on display for the Ag Day tour. This llama seems to be getting along well with Kevin Days and Jeff Taylor.

Food An Important Aspect Of Culture

Se habla espanol? If you can, then you could be a member of another of DHS's exciting groups, the Spanish Club. The purpose of the club is to promote a better understanding of the Spanish language, Hispanic customs and holidays and to encourage community service. The club also raises money for scholarships for outstanding Spanish students.

Spanish Club membership entitled students to take part in many fun-filled activities. The club had a Christmas party at Chi Chi's. They also did Christmas caroling at the Betz Nursing Home.

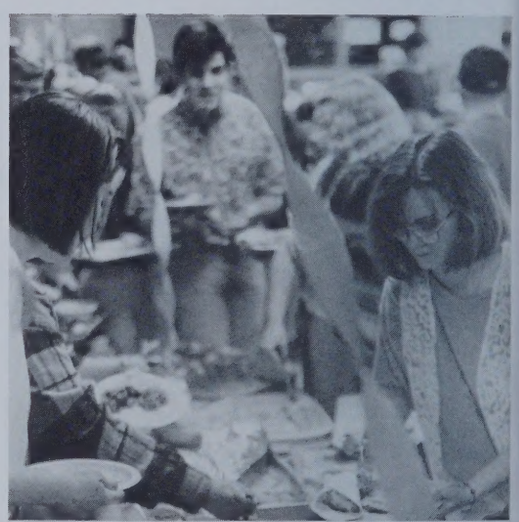
Two major fund-raising projects of the Spanish Club were selling concessions at a football game and selling Guatemalan Christmas wish dolls. The dolls were so popular that they quickly sold out, which must mean that everyone has a wish at Christmas time.

Officers of the Spanish Club were President Dawn Rieke, Vice-President Adam Buttermore, Secretary Heather Babbitt, and Treasurer Erin Thrush.

One of the major events for the Spanish Club in addition to the other two foreign language clubs was the Foreign Language Banquet. Before anyone could eat, representatives from each club explained the various delicacies. After everyone had stuffed themselves, the entertainment consisted of members of each club portraying famous people representing their language for everyone else to guess who they were.

Andrea Mettert participates at the Language Banquet in acting like a famous Hispanic singer. Do you know who she is?

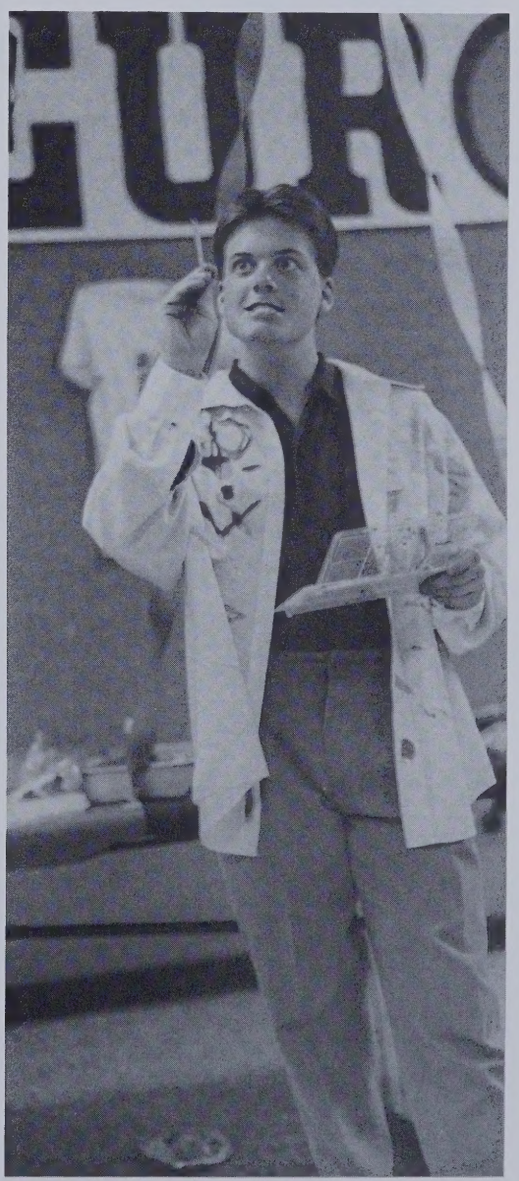
It's about gone! Checking out what is left on the table at the banquet, these language club members hope there are some goodies for them.



Acting for the Spanish Club, Suzie McDonald points out some of the interesting foods members of her club brought to the banquet.

SPANISH CLUB

It sure doesn't look like cafeteria food! Rachel Walter and some other language students fill their plates at the Foreign Language Banquet.



Spain produced some very famous artists. Here, Spanish Club Vice-President Adam Buttermore pretends to be one of them.

Language Clubs Learn Of Cultures

Both the German and French Clubs kept themselves busy with a variety of activities. Those students who were interested in expanding their German vocabulary and enriching their knowledge of German culture joined the German Club. This club is very active in foreign language activities.

The German Club raises money by working in football concessions, baseball concessions, a coatcheck for boys and girls basketball games, and sponsoring a dance. They also sponsored the annual foreign language banquet for the third year in a row and the first-ever DHS-DMS faculty all-star game on February 22. The German Club also helped club members who planned to travel to Europe in July. They sponsor this trip every other year. The club also made donations to the American Red Cross by having a Christmas food drive. Club officers were President Ty Kempf, Vice-President Simon Short, Secretary Logan Kempf, and Treasurer Josh Newbauer.

Those students wanting to further explore the customs of France and the French-speaking world joined the French Club. During the school year they were very active in many areas. They had a Christmas and Halloween party and the big Mardi Gras Party at Pizza Hit. They also had dinner at Cafe Johnell. They sponsored a car wash. On Valentine's Day they had a carnation sale.

The French Club planned a trip to France for July of 1994. They also planned to visit London and such things as the beaches where the D-Day landing happened and some famous chateaux. French Club officers were President Jenny Pressler, Vice-President Janine LaRue, Secretary Amanda Holben, and Treasurer Amy Oswalt.

Sarah Jobe and Paul Wrona are working the coat check during a basketball game, a fund-raising project for the German Club.

Mr. Jim Finchum shows his stuff during the first-ever DHS/DMS faculty all-star game, a German Club project. The DHS faculty won!

Hard Work Brings Good Information

The staffs of the Baron Shield and the Saber are two busy groups that work very hard to pass on the latest news and produce memories for years to come.

The main purpose of the Baron Shield is to publish ten issues of the newspaper to let the Barons know what is going on in and around DHS. It also allows students to work together to produce ten items for the Graphic Arts class to print. Because of their hard work, the staff was able to purchase a laser printer. The members of the Baron Shield may work very hard to beat their deadlines, but they also had two parties during the year.

Eight Baron Shield staff members took part in the state-wide Media Meritthon contest at IUPUI on April 9 and several came home with awards.

The Saber staff also worked to try to meet their deadlines in order to complete the Baron yearbook. The staff this year was larger than some have been in the past, with fifteen students comprising the staff, along with advisors Mrs. Cindy Ziebell and Mrs. Kay Finchum. The staff was broken down into five groups with each group having the responsibility of completing one of the major sections of the yearbook.

Sports staff members Danielle Teegardin and Audrey McLain (right) pick out memorable pictures to be used in the yearbook.

Scot Vincent is busily working to see whether all of those little pieces will fit together so that the next issue of the Baron Shield will look good.

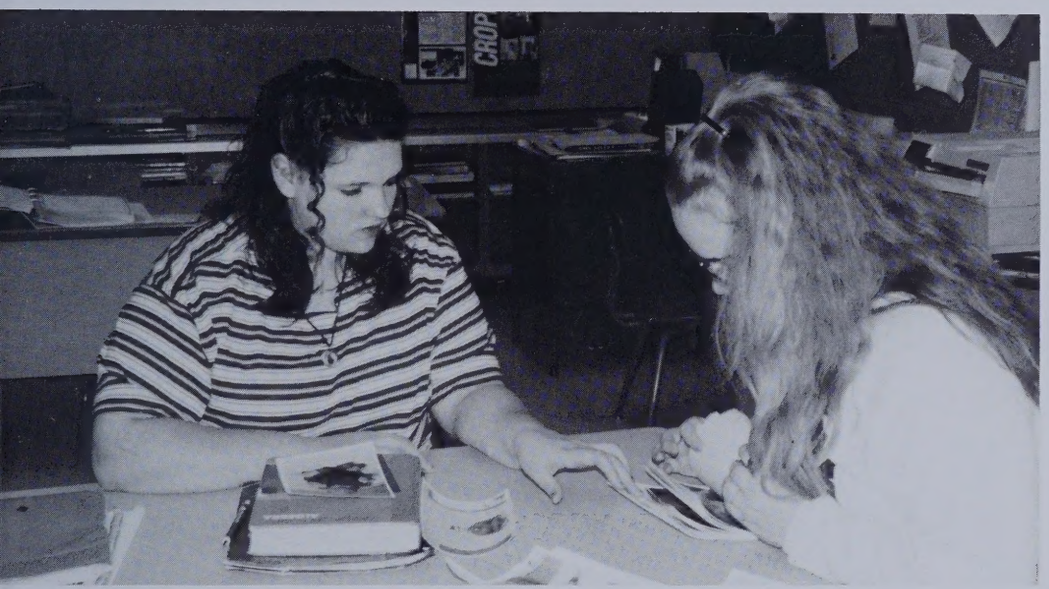
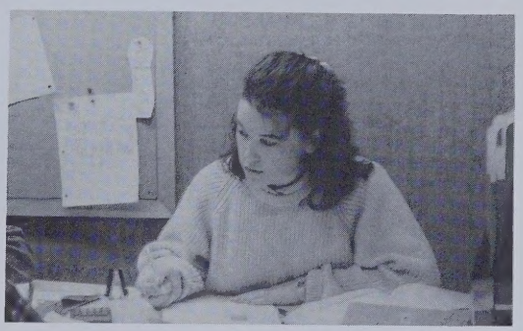
SABER 1994

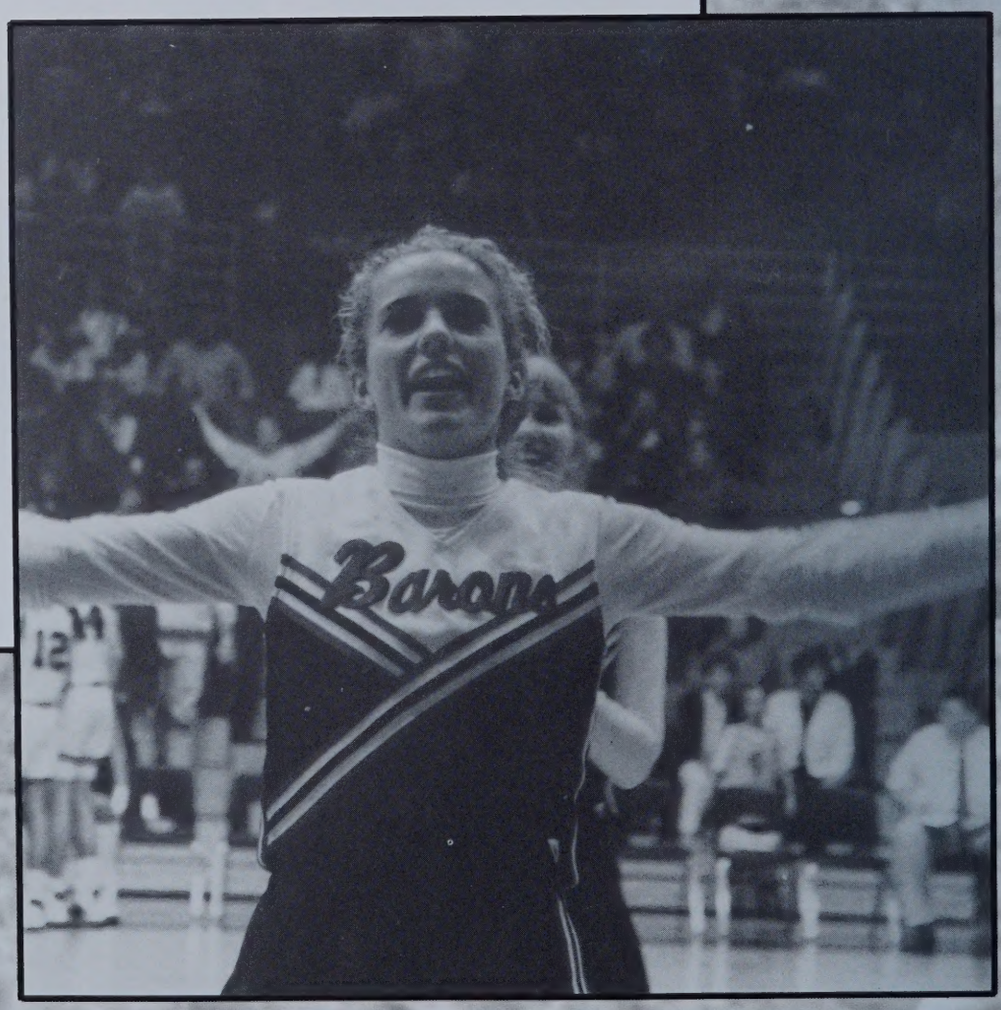


The job of Business Manager means having to keep track of all sorts of things. Below, Amanda Pancake tries to keep up with the work.



Baron Shield Editor-in-Chief Iain Higgins spends still another class period in front of the computer trying to get the copy just right.

Did they win? Mike Kline, Stephanie Sonnenberg, Heather Houghton, and Angie Stambaugh are Special Olympians in bowling in Indianapolis.



Will the crowd yell? Cheerleader Sara Musser does all she can to get everyone involved in helping the team.

Draw Your Own Conclusions....

What was 1993-94 at DHS really like? What events, classes, and activities made the biggest impression on each of us? Who are the Barons that we will most likely remember years from now?

All of these and many more questions might have gone through your mind when thinking about DeKalb High School's twenty-seventh year. As you have read through this edition of the Saber and had various questions in your mind, we hope you were able to....

Here's Our Thanks...

The staff of the 1994 SABER wishes to thank everyone who helped to make this yearbook a reality. This includes all of the fantastic businesses who continue to support our school activities. We encourage you to support them. Senior pictures were taken by Studio One. The underclassmen smiled for Lifetouch National Sschool Studios. Mr. Mark Childs of Jostens Printing and Publishing Division also gave us lots of advice and help.

The 1994 SABER is 9 x 12 and contains 216 pages. The laminated cover is a litho cover in an original design planned by the yearbook staff. The endsheet is printed on sterling silver paper in a name/date design. Most of the body copy, captions, and headlines were produced by the staff using desktop publishing. The major typeface used was Times Roman.
